FOREWORD

FIRST NATIONS GAZETTE

www.fng.ca

The inaugural issue of the First Nations Gazette was published in 1997, under the joint auspices of the Indian Taxation Advisory Board and the Native Law Centre. The vision for the Gazette was to provide official notice of and access to First Nation laws, particularly those dealing with property taxation matters. Over the past number of years, the First Nations Gazette has ensured that all those engaged with reserve lands are aware of the First Nation's governance over those lands.

The First Nations Gazette is published by the First Nations Tax Commission in conjunction with the Native Law Centre. The publication of the First Nations Gazette is governed by an Editorial Board.

In 2014, the First Nations Gazette transitioned to an exclusively electronic publication. While the Gazette is no longer being printed or distributed in hard copy format, it can be accessed, free of charge, on the First Nations Gazette website at fng.ca.

Part II of the digital Gazette, which is a register of First Nation legislation, is consolidated monthly, with the specific content of each volume listed in a hyperlinked table of contents. The First Nation legislation contained in Part II include laws required by federal statute to be published in the First Nations Gazette, and any other laws, by-laws and codes enacted by First Nations and submitted to the Gazette for publication.

The following laws are required by federal statute to be published in the First Nations Gazette:

- Local revenue laws enacted under the First Nations Fiscal Management Act and approved by the First Nations Tax Commission;
- Financial administration laws enacted under the First Nations Fiscal Management Act and approved by the First Nations Financial Management Board;
- Laws enacted under the First Nations Goods and Services Tax Act; and

First Nations may submit other laws, by-laws and codes for publication, such as

- By-laws enacted under sections 81 and 85.1 of the Indian Act;
- By-laws enacted under section 83 of the *Indian Act a*nd approved by the Minister of Indigenous and Northern Affairs;
- Land management codes adopted in accordance with the First Nations Land Management Act; and
- Election codes enacted under the First Nations Elections Act.

Format

As of July 2015, the Gazette reproduces all laws, by-laws and codes in the exact form in which they were submitted to the Gazette, including any errors or omissions. This process preserves the authenticity of the legislation in the form submitted to the Gazette. Although legislation is reproduced in its original form using a digital imaging process, the Gazette reserves the right to alter the layout of these documents for compilation and publication purposes. These alterations may include, but are not limited to, altering the page sizing and orientation, and the addition of page numbering, headers and footers. Laws, by-laws, and codes enacted by First Nations are published in the language in which they were approved.

Citation of Laws, By-laws, and Codes

Any law, by-law, or code published in the digital First Nations Gazette may be cited to the annual volume in which it is contained, for example, Kanaka Bar Indian Band Property Assessment Law, 2015, F.N. Gaz. 2016.20. The citation, as shown in the example, includes the following elements: Title, Gazette abbreviation, year, volume.

Warranty Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability

The laws, by-laws, and codes enacted by First Nations are reproduced in the First Nations Gazette in the exact form as they were submitted to the Gazette. The Gazette is provided as a public service. All content is provided "as is", and the publisher expressly disclaims all warranties, representations and conditions of any kind respecting the Gazette content, whether express, implied or statutory, including without limitation respecting the validity, accuracy or reliability of any content in the Gazette. All implied warranties or conditions, including without limitation, implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, title or non-infringement, or arising from a course of dealing, usage, or trade practice, are expressly disclaimed.

Under no circumstances will the publisher be liable to any person or entity for any loss or damage (including, without limitation, loss of profit, loss of contracts and other indirect or consequential loss) arising out of or in connection with that person's access to, use of, or reliance on the Gazette, whether caused by the negligence of the publisher or otherwise.

www.fng.ca

La première édition de la Gazette des premières nations a été publiée en 1997 sous les auspices de la Commission consultative de la fiscalité indienne et du Native Law Centre. La Gazette a été conçue pour donner la notification officielle des textes législatifs des premières nations, en particulier ceux portant sur les questions d'imposition foncière, ainsi que pour assurer l'accès à ces textes. Au cours des dernières années, la Gazette des premières nations a permis d'informer tous les intervenants concernés de l'exercice par des premières nations de leur gouvernance sur les terres de réserve.

À l'heure actuelle, la Gazette des premières nations est publiée par la Commission de la fiscalité des premières nations en collaboration avec le Native Law Centre. La publication de la Gazette des premières nations relève d'un Comité de rédaction.

En 2014, le passage de la Gazette des premières nations à une publication exclusivement électronique s'est fait avec succès. Bien qu'elle ne soit plus imprimée ou distribuée en format papier, vous pouvez continuer d'y accéder, gratuitement, sur le site Web de la Gazette des premières nations à l'adresse fng.ca.

Les lois ci-dessous doivent être publiées dans la Gazette des premières nations en vertu d'une loi fédérale :

- les lois sur les recettes locales adoptées sous le régime de la Loi sur la gestion financière des premières nations et approuvées par la Commission de la fiscalité des premières nations;
- les lois sur l'administration financière adoptées sous le régime de la Loi sur la gestion financière des premières nations et approuvées par le Conseil de gestion financière des Premières Nations;
- les lois adoptées sous le régime de la Loi sur la taxe sur les produits et services des premières nations.

Les Premières nations peuvent soumettre d'autres lois, règlements administratifs et codes aux fins de publication, comme les suivants :

- les règlements administratifs adoptés en vertu de l'article 83 de la Loi sur les Indiens et approuvés par la ministre des Affaires autochtones et du Nord;
- les codes de gestion des terres adoptés en vertu de la Loi sur la gestion des terres des premières nations;
- les codes électoraux adoptés en vertu de la Loi sur les élections au sein de premières nations.

Format

En date de juillet 2015, la Gazette reproduit tous les lois, règlements administratifs et codes dans la forme exacte où ils lui sont soumis, y compris toute erreur ou omission. Ce processus permet de préserver l'authenticité des lois dans la forme où elles sont soumises à la Gazette. Bien que les lois soient reproduites dans leur forme originale à l'aide d'un processus d'imagerie numérique, la Gazette se réserve le droit de modifier la présentation de ces documents aux fins de compilation et de publication. Ces modifications peuvent comprendre, sans s'y limiter, la modification de la taille et de l'orientation des pages et l'ajout de

Les renvois aux lois, règlements administratifs ou codes publiés dans la Gazette numérique se font par indication du volume annuel où ils sont publiés, par exemple, Kanaka Bar Indian Band Property Assessment Law, 2015, F.N. Stipulation d'exonération de garanties et limitation de responsabilité

Toutes conditions ou garanties implicites, y compris, sans limitation, les garanties implicites de commercialité, d'adaptation à un usage particulier, de propriété ou de non contrefaçon, ou découlant d'une transaction, d'un emploi ou d'une pratique commerciale, sont expressément rejetées.

En aucun cas, l'éditeur ne pourra être tenu responsable envers une personne ou une entité de pertes ou de dommages (y compris, sans limitation, les pertes de profits, les pertes de contrats ou toutes autres pertes indirectes ou consécutives) découlant de son accès à la Gazette, de son utilisation de celle-ci ou de sa confiance dans celle-ci, ou en rapport avec cet accès, cette utilisation ou cette confiance, que ces pertes ou ces dommages aient été causés par la négligence de l'éditeur ou autrement.

PART I PREAMBLE

WHEREAS:

A. Section 35 of the First Nations Fiscal Management Act gives the First Nations Tax Commission the authority to establish standards respecting the form and content of First Nation local revenue laws enacted under subsection 5(1) of the Act;

B. Standards are established by the Commission to further the policy objectives of the Commission and the Act, including to ensure the integrity of the First Nations property taxation system and to assist First Nations to achieve economic growth through the generation of stable local revenues; and

C. Section 31 of the Act requires the Commission to review every local revenue law and subsection 5(2) of the Act provides that such a law has no force and effect until it is reviewed and approved by the Commission.

5. Taux de taxe

5.1 Sous réserve du paragraphe 5.2, le texte législatif doit fixer le taux de la taxe sur les activités commerciales, qui ne peut dépasser :

a) le taux de pourcentage maximum établi par la province de la Colombie-Britannique pour la taxe municipale et de district régional imposée sur le prix d'achat de l'hébergement, dans le cas des premières nations situées dans cette province;

b) le taux de pourcentage établi par la province d'Alberta pour la taxe touristique imposée sur le prix d'achat de l'hébergement, dans le cas des premières nations situées dans cette province;

c) le taux de pourcentage maximum établi par la province de Québec pour la taxe hôtelière imposée sur le prix d'achat des unités d'hébergement, dans le cas des premières nations situées dans cette province;

d) le taux de pourcentage maximum établi par la province de la Nouvelle-Écosse pour la taxe à la commercialisation imposée sur le prix d'achat de l'hébergement, dans le cas des premières nations situées dans cette province;

e) cinq pour cent (5 %), dans le cas des premières nations situées dans une province non mentionnée aux alinéas a) à d).

5.2 Lorsque la première nation est située dans une province mentionnée à l'un des alinéas 5.1a) à d), elle peut, après la première année de prélèvement de la taxe sur les activités commerciales, modifier le texte législatif afin d'augmenter le taux de la taxe à au plus cinq pour cent (5 %).

6. Prélèvement de la taxe

6.1 Le texte législatif doit prévoir que la taxe sur les activités commerciales doit être prélevée au moins une fois par année et il peut :

a) soit établir une (1) ou plusieurs périodes de rapport applicables à chaque année,

b) soit permettre à l'administrateur fiscal d'établir une (1) ou plusieurs périodes de rapport applicables à chaque année, pourvu que chaque période de rapport compte au moins trois (3) mois consécutifs.

6.2 Le texte législatif doit prévoir que la taxe sur les activités commerciales se calcule par multiplication du taux de taxe par les recettes brutes de l'exploitant pour la période de rapport.

7. Déclaration de taxe, paiement et nouvelle cotisation

7.1 Le texte législatif doit obliger l'exploitant, pour chaque période de rapport, au plus tard à la date ou aux dates qui y sont précisées :

a) d'une part, de remplir une déclaration de taxe et de la remettre à la première nation;

b) d'autre part, de payer la totalité des taxes qu'il doit à la première nation.

7.2 Le texte législatif doit exiger que la déclaration de taxe contienne au moins les renseignements suivants :

a) les nom et adresse de l'exploitant;

b) le montant des recettes brutes de l'exploitant pour la période de rapport;

c) le montant total de taxes à payer par l'exploitant pour la période de rapport.

7.3 Le texte législatif doit exiger que la déclaration de taxe soit certifiée complète et exacte par l'exploitant, ou s'il s'agit d'une personne morale, par un individu qui est personnellement au courant des questions certifiées et est autorisé à certifier la déclaration de taxe au nom de l'exploitant.

7.4 Le texte législatif doit préciser l'endroit où le paiement de taxe doit être fait, le mode de paiement à utiliser ainsi que la date d'échéance des déclarations de taxe et des paiements.

7.5 Le texte législatif doit prévoir les procédures à suivre par l'administrateur fiscal pour établir les cotisations de taxe et délivrer un avis de nouvelle cotisation à l'égard de la taxe sur les activités commerciales lorsque, selon le cas :

a) il détermine qu'il y a eu une erreur ou une omission dans une déclaration de taxe;

b) il détermine qu'un exploitant n'a pas payé le bon montant de taxe;

c) un exploitant n'a pas remis sa déclaration de taxe pour une période de rapport.

8. Remboursement de taxes

8.1 Le texte législatif doit prévoir les procédures applicables aux remboursements de taxes à accorder aux exploitants et préciser les circonstances dans lesquelles un remboursement est accordé.

8.2 Le texte législatif doit comporter au moins les dispositions suivantes :

a) le remboursement du trop-payé de taxes lorsque l'administrateur fiscal établit que l'exploitant a payé un montant trop élevé de taxes pour une période de rapport;

b) le paiement d'intérêts sur les remboursements, à un taux inférieur de deux pour cent (2 %) au taux préférentiel de la banque principale de la première nation en vigueur le quinzième jour du mois précédant le calcul des intérêts pour la période subséquente de trois (3) mois.

8.3 Malgré le paragraphe 8.2, le texte législatif peut prévoir que le remboursement des taxes payées en trop sera appliqué comme crédit à valoir sur les taxes sur les activités commerciales qui sont dues par l'exploitant à la première nation ou qui le deviendront, pourvu que celle-ci en donne avis à l'exploitant.

9. Plaintes à l'administrateur fiscal

Le texte législatif doit prévoir une procédure de plainte qui permet à l'exploitant de présenter une plainte à la première nation au sujet d'une prétendue erreur ou omission dans un avis de nouvelle cotisation délivré par l'administrateur fiscal.

10. Dossiers et reçus

10.1 Le texte législatif doit exiger que l'administrateur fiscal tienne des dossiers de ce qui suit :

a) toutes les taxes sur les activités commerciales prélevées en vertu du texte législatif;

b) toutes les déclarations de taxe reçues aux termes du texte législatif;

c) tous les paiements de taxes effectués par chaque exploitant et les reçus délivrés à chaque exploitant;

d) tous les remboursements versés en vertu du texte législatif;

e) toutes les mesures d'exécution prises en vertu du texte législatif.

10.2 Le texte législatif doit exiger que l'administrateur fiscal délivre un reçu à l'exploitant pour chaque paiement effectué sous son régime.

11. Pénalités

Lorsque le texte législatif prévoit l'imposition d'une pénalité sur les taxes impayées, il doit préciser la date à laquelle ou le délai au-delà duquel la pénalité sera imposée si les taxes demeurent en souffrance.

12. Confidentialité

Le texte législatif doit assurer la confidentialité des renseignements et des documents obtenus par l'administrateur fiscal et toute autre personne ayant la garde ou le contrôle de dossiers obtenus ou créés en vertu du texte législatif; toutefois, ces renseignements et ces documents peuvent être communiqués :

Revenues and Expenditures

4. Taxes collected by the First Nation must be placed in the local revenue account of the First Nation and expended under the authority of an expenditure law or in accordance with section 13.1 of the Act.

TAX LIABILITY AND LEVY

Tax Liability

5.(1) This Law applies to all interests in land, and every transferee is subject to tax at the time of application for registration of a taxable transfer in respect of an interest in land in accordance with this Law.

(2) Except where an exemption applies as provided in Part V, a tax

(a) is levied and imposed on an interest in land at the time of the application for registration of a taxable transfer relating to that interest in land; and

(b) must be paid by the transferee in accordance with this Law.

(3) A person who is a transferee of a taxable transfer under this Law is liable for the tax even if

(a) that person is also liable to pay taxes imposed under other property taxation laws of the First Nation; or

(b) the interest in land acquired by a co-transferee of the taxable transfer is exempt from tax under this Law.

(4) Where there is more than one (1) transferee in respect of a taxable transfer, each transferee is jointly and severally liable to the First Nation for the tax imposed under this Law.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to a co-transferee of a taxable transfer who is exempt from tax under this Law.

(6) Taxes are due and payable under this Law notwithstanding any proceeding initiated or remedy sought by a taxpayer respecting those taxes, including without limitation respecting the assessment of taxes, the applicability of an exemption, or the taxpayer's liability to taxation.

Tax Payment and Filing Return

6.(1) On application for registration of a taxable transfer in the registry, the transferee must

(a) pay the tax in accordance with this Law; and

(b) file a completed Return in accordance with this Law, whether or not the taxable transfer is exempt from tax under this Law.

(2) The registry must refuse to accept an application for registration of a taxable transfer if

(a) the transferee does not pay the tax owing at the time of registration;

(b) the transferee does not file a completed Return; or

(c) the administrator or the registry staff have reasonable grounds to believe that the Return is incomplete, or the transferee does not qualify for an exemption being claimed on the Return.

(3) Payment of taxes must be made by cheque, money order or electronic transfer.

(4) Payments by cheque or money order must be made payable to the _____ First Nation, and payments by electronic transfer must be made as directed by the administrator.

Payment of Estimated Tax

7.(1) Despite section 6, where the amount of tax owing on a taxable transfer cannot be determined on the registration date because an appraisal or other valuation information is required to determine the fair market value of the taxable transfer, the administrator may, on the request of the transferee,

(a) estimate the tax owing using the best information available to the administrator on the registration date; and

(b) authorize the registry to accept the application for registration of the taxable transfer on payment by the transferee of the administrator's estimate of the tax owing.

(2) Where a transferee makes a payment of estimated tax owing under subsection (1), the administrator must, on receipt of the appraisal or other valuation information, determine the tax owing on the taxable transfer.

(3) Despite subsection (2), if the transferee was required to provide the appraisal or other valuation information and the transferee does not provide the information within the required time, the administrator must determine the tax owing on the taxable transfer on the registration date, based on the best information available to the administrator at the time of the determination under this subsection.

(4) Where the administrator makes a determination of tax owing under subsection (2) or (3), the administrator must deliver a Notice of Tax Assessment to the transferee and section 32 applies.

Tax Rate

[Note to First Nation: The Law may set a tax rate that is the same or less than the rate set provincially. The rates and rate structure set out below reflect the current provincial rates.]

8.(1) The rate of tax levied under this Law is

(a) one percent (1%) of the taxable transfer's fair market value that does not exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000);

(b) two percent (2%) of that portion of the fair market value that exceeds two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) but does not exceed two million dollars ($ 2,000,000); and

(c) three percent (3%) of that portion of the fair market value that exceeds two million dollars ($ 2,000,000).

(2) If a transferee

(a) applies to register a taxable transfer, and

(b) within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a) applies to register one or more additional taxable transfers respecting the same interest in land, the tax owing on the taxable transfer referred to in paragraph (b) must be calculated based on the total fair market value of the taxable transfers referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all the taxable transfers referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) were a single taxable transfer.

(3) If

(a) a transferee applies to register a taxable transfer, and

(b) one or more related individuals of the person referred to in paragraph (a) apply, as transferees, at the same time as or within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a), to register one (1) or more taxable transfers respecting the same interest in land for which the transferor is not the person referred to in paragraph (a),

the tax owing must be calculated based on the total fair market value of the taxable transfers referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all those taxable transfers were a single taxable transfer, and the transferees referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) are jointly and severally liable to pay the total tax owing.

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(4) If

(a) a transferee that is a corporation (in this subsection and subsection (5) called the "corporate transferee") applies for registration of a taxable transfer, and

(b) one or more corporations associated with the corporate transferee apply, as transferees, at the same time as or within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a), for registration of one or more taxable transfers respecting the same interest in land for which the transferor is not the corporate transferee, the tax owing on the taxable transfers must be calculated based on the total fair market value of the taxable transfers referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all those taxable transfers were a single taxable transfer, and the transferees referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) are jointly and severally liable to pay that total tax.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4), a corporation is associated with a corporate transferee if the corporation and the corporate transferee are associated, within the meaning of section 256 of the Income Tax Act (Canada), on the registration date of the taxable transfer referred to in subsection (4).

[Note to First Nation: Subsection (6) is an optional provision where the First Nation can set an amount below which the tax will not be levied. A First Nation may wish to set this amount so that it does not collect tax on transfers with low values where the administrative costs may exceed the tax that would be collected.]

(6) Despite subsection (1), a tax in an amount of less than_____ ($___) must not be levied on a taxable transfer.

Tax Return

9. A Return must be dated and certified

(a) if no exemption is claimed, by the transferee or a person with actual authority to certify the Return on behalf of the transferee;

(b) if an exemption is claimed and the transferee is an individual, by the transferee or by an agent of the transferee who has personal knowledge of the matters certified; or

(c) if an exemption is claimed and the transferee is a corporation, by a person who has personal knowledge of the matters certified and actual authority to certify the return on behalf of the transferee.

Correcting Transfer

10.(1) Despite section 8, the tax payable for a correcting transfer is the tax payable determined under that section as if the fair market value of the taxable transfer were determined on the registration date of the original transfer.

(2) On the registration of a correcting transfer, the amount of tax paid by a transferee in respect of the original transfer is deemed to be tax

(a) paid by the transferee in respect of the correcting transfer; and

(b) paid on the registration date of the correcting transfer.

PART V

(ii) in respect of which an error was made in the description or survey relating to the registration of the interest in land;

(s) to a not-for-profit educational institution, including a public school, university, technical institute or public college, if the interest in land being transferred will be used for an educational purpose;

(t) to a not-for-profit hospital or health institution, if the interest in land being transferred will be used for hospital or health care related purposes;

[Note to First Nation: A First Nation may wish to include the exemption in paragraph (u) where it wishes to exempt from the tax the transfer of a lease, where the developer will be subdividing the head lease parcel for resale within not more than a five-year time frame. The First Nation would then collect the tax on each resale of the subdivided property, but not on the initial lease transfer.]

(u) of a lease for an interest in land that is intended for subdivision, development and resale of at least five (5) parcels on the land, provided that the transferee completes a subdivision to create at least five (5) parcels within _____ (_) years after the registration date. [Note to First Nation: The number of years must not be more than five.]

[Note to First Nation: The exemption in paragraph (v) would exempt from the property transfer tax all leases having a term of 30 years or less. In deciding whether to include this exemption, the First Nation may wish to consider the nature of the leasehold interests on its lands, and how this exemption could impact its property transfer tax regime. If this exemption is included, a First Nation may consider adding the wording in subsection (3) to prevent transferees from "stacking" leases. If this exemption is not included, consider deleting s. 6(1)(a) of Schedule I, as the tax will have already been paid on an initial term under 30 years and therefore should not be counted again for a lease modification agreement.]

(v) of a lease with a term of thirty (30) years or less remaining as of the registration date, other than a lease modification agreement.

(3) Despite paragraph (2)(v), the exemption from taxation in that paragraph does not apply to a taxable transfer where

(a) two (2) or more taxable transfers are made in respect of the same interest in land;

(b) the applications for registration of the taxable transfers are made at the registry within six (6) months of each other;

SAMPLE

(c) each of the taxable transfers provides a term during which a person is given a right to occupy the interest in land under a lease; and

(d) the terms referred to in paragraph (c) exceed thirty (30) years in total.

Additional Exemptions

13.(1) A transferee is exempt from taxation on a taxable transfer under this Law where the taxable transfer is to

(a) the First Nation as the sole transferee;

(b) a First Nation Corporation as the sole transferee;

(c) a member where, in respect of the taxable transfer,

(i) the member is the only transferee,

(ii) all of the transferees are members, or

(iii) the member and the member's spouse are the only transferees, provided that the transferee will hold the interest in land directly and not as a trustee;

(d) a trustee who will hold the interest in land in trust only for the sole benefit of one (1) or more members and no other person.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), where an exemption is given under paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d), the First Nation must

(a) pay into the local revenue account an amount equivalent to the taxes that would have been payable by the exempted person or corporation had the exemption not applied; and

(b) make the payment under paragraph (a) using moneys that are not local revenues.

(3) The requirement in subsection (2) does not apply to an exemption given under paragraph (1)(b) where all of the shares in the First Nation Corporation are held in trust for the benefit of the First Nation or all of the members of the First Nation.

[Note to First Nation: Sections 14 to 18 provide for a first-time home buyers' exemption, similar to the exemption program offered provincially. First Nations who do not wish to provide for this exemption should delete these sections and renumber the remaining sections of the Law accordingly.]

[Note to First Nation: Sections 19 to 24 provide for a new housing exemption, similar to the exemption program offered provincially. When considering whether to include this exemption in their Law, First Nations may wish to assess the potential fiscal impacts, as the exemption provides a 100% exemption for all new homes with a fair market value of $750,000 or less, and a partial exemption for homes with a fair market value between $750,000 and $800,000. Refund of Taxes Paid

29.(1) If a person has paid tax pursuant to a Notice of Tax Assessment and, as a result of the tax payable is less than the amount actually paid, the administrator must refund the excess tax paid, including interest on the amount overpaid calculated in accordance with subsection (4).

(a) a decision of the administrator under section 33, or

(2) If, after a person has paid tax under section 6,

(a) the person withdraws the application for registration, or

(b) the application for registration is rejected and not resubmitted,

the administrator must refund the tax paid, including interest calculated in accordance with subsection (4).

(3) If a person is deemed to have paid tax in respect of a correcting transfer and the tax payable is less than the amount deemed to have been paid, the administrator must refund the overpaid tax, including interest on the amount overpaid calculated in accordance with subsection (4).

(4) Where interest is payable on a refund of taxes under this Law, the administrator must calculate the interest payable as follows:

(c) interest will not be compounded; and

(d) interest stops running on the earliest of the day payment of the money owed is mailed, delivered or actually received by the person to whom it is owed.

(3) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), if the person who paid the amount claimed is a corporation, the application must be signed by an authorized signatory of the corporation.

(4) Where the administrator receives an application for a refund under this section and is satisfied that person paid an amount as tax in circumstances where there was no legal obligation to pay the amount as tax, the administrator must refund that amount to the person entitled to it, without interest.

(5) As a limitation on subsection (4), the administrator must not provide a refund for an amount paid more than __ (_) years before the date on which the application for a refund is submitted under paragraph (2)(a). [Note to First Nation: Must be at least 2 years.]

(6) Where the administrator determines that a refund is not payable under this section, the administrator must give a written notice to the transferee stating the reasons a refund is not payable and the notice is deemed to be a Notice of Tax Assessment for the purpose of allowing the taxpayer to make a Request for Reconsideration under this Law.

Recovery of a Refund Wrongly Obtained

31.(1) If a refund is made under this Law and the administrator subsequently determines that the person was not entitled to the refund, or was entitled only to a refund in a lesser amount, the amount of the refund to which the person was not entitled is deemed to be tax imposed by section 6 which was required to have been paid by the person on the date the refund was made to the person.

(2) Where the administrator makes a determination under subsection (1), the administrator must give a Notice of Tax Assessment to the person stating the reasons the person was not entitled to the refund, or was entitled only to a refund in a lesser amount, and the amount of taxes payable, including interest and penalties where section 39 applies.

(2) If the administrator determines that

(a) the fair market value indicated on a Return is not correct,

(6) Where a Notice of Tax Assessment indicates taxes owing, the taxes are due and payable within thirty (30) days after the date shown on the Notice of Tax Assessment, whether or not a taxpayer delivers a Request for Reconsideration in respect of the tax assessment.

(7) Subject to being varied on reconsideration, a Notice of Tax Assessment is valid and binding despite any error, defect, omission, or error in procedure.

(8) Except as provided in subsections (9) to (12), the administrator must issue a Notice of Tax Assessment within one (1) year after the registration date of a taxable transfer.

(9) Where a claim for an exemption is made under paragraph 12(2)(g), the administrator must issue a Notice of Tax Assessment within twenty-four (24) months after the date of the first transfer after the subdivision.

(10) Where a claim for an exemption is made under paragraph 12(2)(u), the administrator must issue a Notice of Tax Assessment within _____ (__) months after the registration date of the taxable transfer relating to the exemption. [Note to First Nation: This provision is only required if the exemption set out in paragraph 12(2)(u) is included in the law. (11) Where a claim for an exemption is made under section 15 or 20, or an application for a refund is made under any of sections 17, 22 or 23, the administrator must issue a Notice of Tax Assessment within twenty-four (24) months after the registration date of the taxable transfer relating to the exemption or refund.

(12) Despite the time limitations set out in this section, where the administrator determines that a person has made any misrepresentation that is attributable to neglect, carelessness or willful default, or has committed any fraud, in supplying any information under this Law, in claiming an exemption or applying for a refund, or in omitting to disclose any information, or the person has failed to deliver a Return required by this Law, the administrator may make a tax assessment and deliver a Notice of Tax Assessment to that person at any time.

(2) A Request for Reconsideration must include the reasons for the request and set out all relevant facts, including an estimate of the fair market value if that information is relevant to the request.

(3) On receipt of the Request for Reconsideration, the administrator must consider the request and, within thirty (30) days after receiving the Request for Reconsideration, either

(a) confirm the assessment or the refusal to provide a refund, as the case may be; or

(b) vary the assessment or provide a refund, as the case may be.

(4) Where, under subsection (3), the administrator confirms the assessment or the refusal to provide a refund, the administrator must give a written notice of that decision to the transferee.

(5) Where, under paragraph (3)(b), the administrator decides to vary an assessment or provide a refund, the administrator must determine the taxes and interest owing on the taxable transfer, if any, or the refund

(6) The administrator may extend the time limit for a transferee to deliver a Request for Reconsideration where

(a) an application for extension is made before the expiry of the time allowed under subsection (1); and

(b) the application contains the reason for the extension and specifies the period of time applied for.

(7) A Request for Reconsideration may not be made in respect of a reconsideration decision, or in respect of an amended Notice of Tax Assessment given under subsection (5).

Appeal to Court

34.(1) An appeal lies from a decision of the administrator under section 33 to a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) An appeal under this section must be commenced within sixty (60) days of the notice of the administrator's decision.

(3) An appeal under this section is a new hearing that is not limited to the evidence and issues that were before the administrator.

(4) The court may dismiss the appeal, allow the appeal, vary the decision from which the appeal is made or refer the decision back to the administrator for reconsideration.

(a) in support of an exemption from tax under this Law,

(b) in support of an application for a refund under any of sections 17, 22, 23 or 30, or

(c) relating to the fair market value of a taxable transfer, the transferee must pay, in addition to the taxes owing on the taxable transfer, a penalty on the unpaid taxes added as of the registration date and interest calculated from the registration date.

(b) are payable by the debtor as unpaid taxes.

Notice of Enforcement Proceedings

(2) The administrator must maintain a list of all liens created under this Law and file a notice of the lien in the registry.

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(3) A lien listed under subsection (2) has priority over any unregistered or registered charge, claim, privilege, lien or security interest in respect of the interest in land.

FAIR MARKET VALUE DETERMINATION

Interpretation

1. In this Schedule,

(a) a reference to the "rent" does not include an amount that is separately calculated under a lease and is payable to a lessor in reimbursement for

(i) taxes, or

(ii) reasonable expenses relating to the operation of a multi-tenant premises of which the demised interest in land forms a part;

(b) "appraisal" means an appraisal conducted by an independent appraiser who is designated Accredited Appraiser Canadian Institute by the Appraisal Institute of Canada or designated, registered or licensed as a certified appraiser under the laws of the Province of British Columbia, as applicable; and

(c) "assessed value" means the most recent assessed value of an interest in land determined in accordance with the First Nation's assessment law made under subparagraph 5(1)(a)(i) of the Act.

Determination of Lease Term and Life Estate Term

2.(1) Subject to section 6, and subsections (2), (3) and (5), the term of a lease is the sum of

(a) the number of years for which a transferee has the right to occupy the demised interest in land; and

(b) the maximum number of years not counted under paragraph (a) that, by the exercise of rights or options to renew or extend the lease, the transferee may occupy the demised interest in land.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the term of a lease is the unexpired portion of the term determined under subsection (1) on the registration date.

(3) If the lease is a time-share or fractional ownership plan, the term of the lease must be determined by adding together the number of years during which the transferee may, for any part of a year, occupy the interest in land.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), the term of a life estate is the number of years of life expectancy based on Table 3 remaining to the holder of the life estate on the registration date of the life estate in the registry.

(5) Where the term of a lease or life estate would otherwise be expressed as a fraction of a year or as a number of years plus a fraction of a year, the term must be rounded up to the next whole number.

Fair Market Value of Prepaid Leases

3.(1) The fair market value of a transfer involving the granting or transfer of a prepaid lease is the amount of the purchase price paid by the transferee in money and in other consideration where

(a) the rent under the lease is not subject to adjustment or renegotiation and has been paid for the term of the lease before the registration date or will be paid within one (1) year of that date; and

(b) the lessor and the transferee deal with each other at arm's-length.

(2) If a lessor and a transferee are not at arm's-length, the fair market value is the amount that would have been paid if the leasehold interest in land had been sold on the registration date in the open market by a willing seller to a willing purchaser free of any trust and unencumbered by a judgment for the payment of money, or a mortgage, or any other financial instrument that secures the payment of money or the performance of an obligation.

Fair Market Value of Lease Having a Term Not Exceeding 30 Years

SAMPLE

Current ver. 2017 11 03

4.(1) The fair market value of a transfer involving the grant or transfer of a lease

(a) to which section 3 does not apply,

(b) the term of which does not exceed thirty (30) years, and

(c) where the lessor and the transferee deal with each other at arm's-length, is, subject to an election under subsection (2), the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

LSC + (ARP x PVF)

where

LSC = any lump sum consideration paid by the transferee for the grant or transfer of the lease, including for any improvements on the leasehold property;

ARP = the annual rent payment to be made during the last year for which rents are fixed pursuant to a lease; and

PVF = the present value factor set out in Column 2 of Table 2 that is opposite the number of years in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease.

(2) The transferee may elect to calculate the fair market value of the lease under section 5.

Fair Market Value of Other Leases

5.(1) Subject to subsection (2), the fair market value of a lease to which section 4 does not apply is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

where

VSI = the fair market value of the fee simple interest, including improvements, in the demised interest in land; and

P = the percentage set out in Column 2 of Table 1 opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) where part of the improvements on a parcel of land are leased, the fair market value of the demised interest in land is determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{\text{VSI x P x ARADP}}{\text{ARA}}$$

where

VSI = the fair market value of the fee simple interest, including improvements, within which the demised interest in land is situated;

P = the percentage set out in Column 2 of Table 1 opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease;

ARADP = the aggregate rentable area of the demised interest in land; and

ARA = the aggregate rentable area of the improvements on the land within which the demised interest in land is situated.

(3) The VSI in subsections (1) and (2) is the assessed value of the leasehold interest in land, if available.

(4) If an assessed value is not available, the administrator may

(a) determine the VSI using the best available data, which may include assessed values or appraisal data of comparable properties; or

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(b) require the transferee to provide an appraisal of the VSI at the transferee's cost.

(5) If the administrator determines the VSI under paragraph (4)(a), the transferee may, within ten (10) days after the administrator advised the transferee of the VSI, elect to provide an appraisal of the VSI to the administrator at the transferee's cost and within an additional twenty-one (21) days or such additional time frame as agreed to by the administrator.

(6) If the transferee provides an appraisal under subsection (5), the administrator must use the VSI determined by the appraisal for the purposes of this section.

Fair Market Value of a Lease Modification Agreement

6.(1) The term of the lease modification agreement for the purposes of this section is the sum of

(a) the term of the lease before extension by the lease modification agreement, calculated under subsection 2(1) without regard to subsection 2(2) from the date the lease agreement was first executed; and [Note to First Nation: If the exemption in s. 12(2)(v) is not included, considering deleting this paragraph and renumbering.]

(b) the number of years, applying subsection 2(5), by which the lease is extended by the lease modification agreement.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b), options or rights to renew or extend the lease pursuant to the lease modification agreement are deemed exercised to give the maximum possible extension.

(3) Subject to subsection (5), where the term of the lease modification agreement is one hundred (100) years or less, its fair market value is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

where

LSC = any lump sum consideration paid by the transferee for the lease modification, including for any improvements on the leasehold property;

ARP = the annual rent payment to be made during the last year for which rents are fixed pursuant to the lease as extended by the lease modification agreement; and

PVF = the present value factor set out in Column 2 of Table 2 that is opposite the number of years in Column 1 that corresponds to the number of years applicable under paragraph (1)(b).

(4) Where the term of the lease modification agreement exceeds one hundred years (100) years, section 5 applies for the purpose of calculating the fair market value of the lease modification agreement except that "P" equals the percentage in Column 2 of Table 1 that is opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the number of years applicable under paragraph (1)(b).

(5) The transferee may elect to calculate the fair market value of the lease under section 5 as modified by subsection (4).

Fair Market Value of Life Estates

7. The fair market value of a life estate in a lease is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

VFS x P

where

VFS = the fair market value of the leasehold interest in land determined

(a) as though the life estate did not exist; and

(b) under section 3, 4 or 5 as applicable.

Current ver. 2017 11 03

P = the percentage in Column 2 of Table 1 that is opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the life estate.

Transfers That Are Not Arm's-Length

8. Where a transferor and a transferee do not deal with each other at arm's-length, the administrator may

(a) use the assessed value; or

(b) require the transferee to provide with the Return, as applicable and at the transferee's cost, an appraisal of

(i) the valuation required under subsection 3(2),

(ii) the ARP under section 4 or section 6 that would be paid on the open market on the registration date by an arm's-length transferee, or

(iii) the VSI under section 5 that would be paid on the open market on the registration date by an arm's-length transferee.

PARTIE IV
ASSUJETTISSEMENT À LA TAXE ET PRÉLÈVEMENT

Assujettissement à la taxe

5.(1) La présente loi s'applique à tous les intérêts fonciers, et le destinataire d'un transfert est assujetti à la taxe au moment où la demande d'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable visant un intérêt foncier est faite conformément à la présente loi.

(2) Sauf dans les cas où s'applique une exemption prévue à la partie V, la taxe est :

a) imposée et prélevée sur un intérêt foncier au moment où est faite la demande d'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable visant cet intérêt;

b) payée par le destinataire du transfert conformément à la présente loi.

(3) La personne qui est le destinataire d'un transfert taxable au titre de la présente loi est responsable du paiement de la taxe même si, selon le cas :

a) elle est aussi responsable du paiement des impôts ou taxes imposés en vertu des autres textes législatifs relatifs à l'imposition foncière de la Première Nation;

b) l'intérêt foncier acquis par un co-destinataire du transfert taxable est exempté de la taxe en vertu de la présente loi.

(4) Dans les cas où un transfert taxable comporte plus d'un (1) destinataire, les co-destinataires du transfert sont solidairement responsables de payer à la Première Nation la taxe imposée au titre de la présente loi.

(5) Le paragraphe (4) ne s'applique pas au co-destinataire d'un transfert taxable qui est exempté de la taxe en vertu de la présente loi.

(6) Les taxes sont dues et payables au titre de la présente loi malgré toute action engagée ou tout recours exercé par le contribuable relativement à ces taxes, notamment en ce qui concerne la cotisation de taxe, l'applicabilité d'une exemption ou son assujettissement à la taxe.

Paiement de la taxe et production d'une déclaration

a) payer la taxe conformément à la présente loi;

b) produire une déclaration complète conformément à la présente loi, que le transfert taxable soit ou non exempté de la taxe au titre de la présente loi.

(2) Le bureau d'enregistrement refuse d'accepter la demande d'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable si, selon le cas :

a) le destinataire du transfert ne paie pas la taxe exigible au moment de l'enregistrement;

b) le destinataire du transfert ne produit pas une déclaration complète;

c) l'administrateur ou le personnel du bureau d'enregistrement a des motifs raisonnables de croire que la déclaration est incomplète ou que le destinataire du transfert n'est pas admissible à une exemption demandée dans la déclaration.

l'administrateur.

(5) La Première Nation délivre un reçu au contribuable pour les taxes payées conformément à la présente loi.

Paiement de la taxe estimative

a) d'une part, faire une estimation de la taxe exigible en se fondant sur les meilleurs renseignements à sa disposition à la date d'enregistrement;

b) d'autre part, autoriser le bureau d'enregistrement à accepter l'enregistrement du transfert taxable dès que le destinataire du transfert paie le montant estimatif de taxe.

(2) Lorsque le destinataire du transfert a payé le montant estimatif de taxe visé au paragraphe (1), l'administrateur calcule, sur réception des résultats de l'évaluation ou des autres renseignements pertinents, le montant de la taxe exigible sur le transfert taxable.

(3) Malgré le paragraphe (2), si le destinataire du transfert était tenu de fournir une évaluation ou d'autres renseignements pertinents et qu'il ne les a pas fournis pas dans le délai imparti, l'administrateur calcule la taxe exigible sur le transfert taxable à la date d'enregistrement, en se fondant sur les meilleurs renseignements à sa disposition au moment de faire le calcul.

(4) Lorsqu'il fait le calcul de la taxe exigible aux termes des paragraphes (2) ou (3), l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation au destinataire du transfert et l'article 32 s'applique alors.

Taux de taxe

8.(1) Le taux de la taxe prélevée en vertu de la présente loi est égal à :

a) un pour cent (1 %) de la juste valeur marchande du transfert taxable qui n'excède pas deux cent mille dollars (200 000 $);

b) deux pour cent (2 %) de la partie de la juste valeur marchande qui excède deux cent mille dollars (200 000 $) jusqu'à concurrence de deux millions de dollars (2 000 000 $);

c) trois pour cent (3 %) de la partie de la juste valeur marchande qui excède deux millions de dollars (2 000 000 $).

(2) Si le destinataire d'un transfert :

a) demande l'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable,

b) puis demande, dans les six (6) mois suivant la demande mentionnée à l'alinéa a), l'enregistrement d'un ou de plusieurs autres transferts taxables supplémentaires visant le même intérêt foncier, la taxe exigible sur le transfert taxable visé à l'alinéa b) est calculée en fonction de la juste valeur marchande totale des transferts taxables visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert taxable.

(3) Si :

a) le destinataire d'un transfert demande l'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable,

b) et qu'une ou plusieurs personnes apparentées à ce dernier demandent, à titre de destinataires d'un transfert, au même moment que la demande visée à l'alinéa a) ou dans les six (6) mois suivant celle-ci, l'enregistrement d'un (1) ou de plusieurs transferts taxables visant le même intérêt foncier dont l'auteur n'est pas la personne mentionnée à l'alinéa a), la taxe exigible est calculée en fonction de la juste valeur marchande totale des transferts taxables visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert taxable, et les destinataires des transferts mentionnés aux alinéas a) et b) sont solidairement responsables du paiement de la taxe totale exigible.

(4) Si :

a) le destinataire d'un transfert qui est une personne morale (appelée « société destinataire » au présent paragraphe et au paragraphe (5)) demande l'enregistrement d'un transfert taxable,

b) et qu'une ou plusieurs personnes morales associées à la société destinataire demandent, en tant que destinataires d'un transfert, au même moment que la demande visée à l'alinéa a) ou dans les six (6) mois suivant celle-ci, l'enregistrement d'un ou de plusieurs transferts taxables visant le même intérêt foncier dont l'auteur n'est pas la société destinataire, la taxe exigible sur les transferts taxables est calculée en fonction de la juste valeur marchande totale des transferts taxables visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert taxable, et les destinataires des transferts mentionnés aux alinéas a) et b) sont solidairement responsables du paiement de la taxe totale exigible.

(5) Pour l'application du paragraphe (4), une personne morale est associée à la société destinataire si elles sont des sociétés associées au sens de l'article 256 de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu (Canada) à la date d'enregistrement du transfert taxable visé au paragraphe (4).

(6) Malgré le paragraphe (1), il ne peut être prélevé sur un transfert taxable aucune taxe d'un montant inférieur à _____ dollars (____ $).

Déclaration de taxe

9.(1) Une déclaration doit être datée et certifiée :

a) lorsqu'aucune exemption n'est demandée, par le destinataire du transfert ou la personne autorisée à certifier la déclaration au nom de ce dernier;

Version courante 2017-11- 03

c) lorsqu'une exemption est demandée et que le destinataire du transfert est une personne morale, par une personne qui est personnellement au courant des questions certifiées et qui est autorisée à certifier la déclaration au nom du destinataire du transfert.

Transfert rectificatif

10.(1) Malgré l'article 8, la taxe à payer sur un transfert rectificatif est le montant de taxe calculé selon cet article comme si la juste valeur marchande du transfert taxable était calculée à la date d'enregistrement du transfert initial.

(2) Lors de l'enregistrement d'un transfert rectificatif, le montant de taxe payé par le destinataire du transfert à l'égard du transfert initial est réputé être la taxe :

a) payée par le destinataire du transfert à l'égard du transfert rectificatif;

b) payée à la date d'enregistrement du transfert rectificatif.

Si elle décide d'inclure cette exemption, la Première Nation peut envisager d'inclure le libellé prévu au paragraphe (3) pour empêcher les destinataires de transferts « d'empiler » les baux. Si elle n'inclut pas cette exemption, la Première Nation devrait supprimer l'alinéa 6(1)a) de l'annexe I, puisque la taxe aura déjà été payée sur une durée initiale de moins de 30 ans et, par conséquent, ne devrait pas être de nouveau prise en compte pour une convention de modification du bail.]

délivre un avis de cotisation, et le destinataire du transfert doit payer à la Première Nation la taxe qui aurait été payable s'il n'avait pas obtenu l'exemption ou le remboursement, plus l'intérêt calculé sur la taxe depuis la date d'enregistrement ainsi que toute pénalité imposée aux termes de l'article 39.

(4) Le destinataire d'un transfert non visé au paragraphe (1) qui a obtenu une exemption au titre de l'article 20 ou un remboursement au titre des articles 22 ou 23 d'un montant supérieur à celui auquel il aurait eu droit en vertu de la présente loi doit payer à la Première Nation en tant que taxe exigible le montant du trop-payé, plus l'intérêt calculé sur la taxe depuis la date d'enregistrement ainsi que toute pénalité imposée aux termes de l'article 39.

(5) Les paragraphes (1) à (4) ne s'appliquent pas au destinataire d'un transfert qui a obtenu une exemption au titre de l'article 20 ou un remboursement au titre de l'article 22 si celui-ci ne satisfait pas aux exigences de l'article 21 pour la seule raison que, avant le premier anniversaire de la date d'enregistrement :

a) soit il décède;

b) soit il transfère le bien foncier aux termes d'une entente de séparation écrite ou d'une ordonnance judiciaire dans le cadre d'une loi fédérale, provinciale ou de la Première Nation régissant le partage des biens matrimoniaux.

Règle applicable aux exemptions

25. Malgré les articles 14 à 24, le destinataire d'un transfert n'a pas droit à la fois à une exemption ou un remboursement pour l'acheteur d'une première maison et à une exemption ou un remboursement pour une maison neuve, et il ne peut faire une demande pour les deux à la fois à l'égard du même transfert taxable.

PARTIE VI

EXAMENS, DEMANDES DE RENSEIGNEMENTS ET INSPECTIONS

Examen par l'administrateur

b) une demande d'exemption est exacte;

c) la taxe exigible a été acquittée comme l'exige la présente loi;

d) il a été contrevenu à une disposition de la présente loi.

Demande de renseignements ou de documents

Version courante 2017-11- 03

(2) L'administrateur n'est pas lié par les renseignements fournis aux termes du paragraphe (1) et il peut, indépendamment des renseignements reçus ou s'il n'en reçoit aucun, établir la cotisation de taxe à payer ou prendre toute autre décision ou toute mesure qu'il juge indiquée.

Inspection

28.(1) L'administrateur ou toute autre personne autorisée par la Première Nation peut, à toute fin liée à l'application ou au contrôle d'application de la présente loi :

a) pendant les heures d'ouverture normales, pénétrer dans tout lieu où est exploitée une entreprise, est exercée une activité relativement à une entreprise, ou sont tenus ou devraient être tenus des dossiers commerciaux, et inspecter les dossiers qui se rapportent ou peuvent se rapporter au montant de la taxe payable aux termes de la présente loi;

b) examiner tout intérêt foncier dont l'examen peut, à son avis, aider à vérifier l'exactitude d'une déclaration ou d'une demande d'exemption ou les renseignements y figurant ou devant y figurer, ou à déterminer le montant de la taxe payable aux termes de la présente loi.

(2) Si des dossiers sont inspectés ou produits en application du présent article, la personne qui en fait l'inspection ou qui les reçoit peut en faire des copies.

(3) Il est interdit d'entraver l'action d'une personne qui fait ce qu'elle est autorisée à faire en vertu du présent article.

PARTIE VII

Remboursement des taxes payées

29.(1) Si une personne a payé la taxe selon l'avis de cotisation et qu'à la suite d'une décision ou d'une ordonnance mentionnée ci-après, la taxe exigible est inférieure au montant effectivement payé, l'administrateur rembourse le trop-payé, avec des intérêts calculés conformément au paragraphe (4) :

a) une décision de l'administrateur visée à l'article 33;

b) une ordonnance judiciaire visée à l'article 34.

(2) L'administrateur rembourse la taxe payée, avec des intérêts calculés conformément au paragraphe (4), si, après qu'une personne a payé la taxe aux termes de l'article 6 :

a) elle retire la demande d'enregistrement,

b) la demande d'enregistrement est rejetée et n'est pas soumise à nouveau.

(3) Si une personne est réputée avoir payé la taxe à l'égard d'un transfert rectificatif et que la taxe exigible est inférieure au montant réputé avoir été payé, l'administrateur rembourse le trop-payé, avec des intérêts calculés conformément au paragraphe (4).

(4) Lorsque des intérêts sont payables sur un remboursement de taxes au titre de la présente loi, l'administrateur calcule ces intérêts de la façon suivante :

a) l'intérêt commence à courir à la date à laquelle les taxes ont initialement été payées à la Première Nation;

Version courante 2017-11- 03

b) le taux d'intérêt applicable à chaque période successive de trois (3) mois, commençant le 1er janvier, le 1er avril, le 1er juillet et le 1er octobre de chaque année, est le taux inférieur de deux pour cent (2 %) au taux préférentiel de la banque principale de la Première Nation en vigueur le 15e jour du mois précédant la période de trois (3) mois;

c) l'intérêt n'est pas composé;

d) l'intérêt cesse de courir le jour où le paiement de la somme due est remis ou envoyé par la poste à la personne à qui elle est destinée ou lui est effectivement versé.

Remboursement de taxes sur demande

30.(1) Lorsqu'une personne a payé un montant à titre de taxe aux termes de la présente loi alors qu'elle n'avait pas l'obligation légale de payer cette taxe, elle peut demander à l'administrateur un remboursement du montant payé.

(2) Pour demander un remboursement en vertu du paragraphe (1), la personne doit :

a) présenter à l'administrateur une demande écrite rédigée sur le formulaire exigé par lui et signée par la personne qui a payé le montant réclamé;

b) fournir une preuve suffisante pour convaincre l'administrateur que la personne ayant payé le montant a droit au remboursement.

(3) Pour l'application de l'alinéa (2)a), lorsque la personne ayant payé le montant est une personne morale, la demande doit être signée par un signataire autorisé de celle-ci.

(4) Lorsqu'il reçoit une demande de remboursement en vertu du présent article et qu'il est convaincu que la personne a payé un montant à titre de taxe alors qu'elle n'avait pas l'obligation légale de payer cette taxe, l'administrateur lui rembourse ce montant, sans intérêt.

(5) À titre de restriction au paragraphe (4), l'administrateur ne peut accorder le remboursement d'un montant payé plus de _____ (_) ans avant la date de présentation de la demande de remboursement visée à l'alinéa (2)a). [Note à la Première Nation: au moins deux ans.]

(6) S'il détermine qu'un remboursement ne peut être accordé en vertu du présent article, l'administrateur en donne un avis écrit au destinataire du transfert, en y indiquant les motifs à l'appui, et l'avis est réputé constituer un avis de cotisation afin de permettre au contribuable de présenter une demande de réexamen au titre de la présente loi.

Recouvrement des remboursements obtenus à tort

(2) Lorsque l'administrateur fait une détermination aux termes du paragraphe (1), il délivre à la personne un avis de cotisation qui précise les raisons pour lesquelles elle n'avait pas droit au remboursement, ou n'avait droit qu'à un montant inférieur, et indique le montant de taxe à payer, y compris les intérêts et les pénalités si l'article 39 s'applique.

PARTIE VIII

Évaluation de la taxe par l'administrateur

32.(1) L'administrateur peut déterminer, à l'égard d'un transfert taxable, en se fondant sur les renseignements à sa disposition :

a) la juste valeur marchande de ce transfert;

b) l'applicabilité d'une exemption demandée en vertu de la présente loi;

c) le montant de taxe que doit payer le destinataire du transfert aux termes de la présente loi.

(2) L'administrateur établit la cotisation de taxe et délivre un avis de cotisation au destinataire du transfert s'il détermine, selon le cas :

a) que la juste valeur marchande indiquée sur la déclaration est erronée;

b) qu'une exemption demandée par le destinataire du transfert n'est pas applicable;

c) que, pour quelque raison, le destinataire du transfert n'a pas payé le bon montant de taxe.

(3) L'avis de cotisation contient les renseignements applicables suivants :

a) le nom et l'adresse du destinataire du transfert;

b) une description de l'intérêt foncier;

c) la juste valeur marchande du transfert taxable calculée par l'administrateur;

d) la décision de l'administrateur quant à l'applicabilité de l'exemption demandée par le destinataire du transfert;

e) le montant total de taxe payable sur le transfert taxable calculé par l'administrateur;

f) le montant de taxe payé par le destinataire du transfert;

g) les pénalités et intérêts payables par le destinataire du transfert aux termes de la partie X à la date de l'avis de cotisation;

h) le solde de la taxe à payer ou le montant payé en trop;

i) la date de l'avis de cotisation.

(4) L'avis de cotisation délivré par l'administrateur constitue un relevé de taxes et une demande de paiement des taxes exigibles, le cas échéant.

(5) Si l'avis de cotisation indique un trop-payé de taxes, l'administrateur rembourse le montant payé en trop, conformément à la présente loi.

(6) Si l'avis de cotisation indique un montant de taxes exigibles, ces taxes sont dues et payables dans les trente (30) jours suivant la date qui y est indiquée, que le contribuable présente ou non une demande de réexamen à l'égard de la cotisation.

(7) Sous réserve de modification lors du réexamen, l'avis de cotisation est valide et exécutoire malgré toute erreur ou omission ou tout vice de forme ou de procédure.

(8) Sauf disposition contraire des paragraphes (9) à (12), l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation

(9) Lorsqu'une demande d'exemption est présentée en vertu de l'alinéa 12(2)g), l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation dans les vingt-quatre (24) mois suivant la date du premier transfert après le lotissement.

(10) Lorsqu'une demande d'exemption est présentée en vertu de l'alinéa 12(2)u), l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation dans les _____ (__) mois suivant la date d'enregistrement du transfert taxable auquel se rapporte l'exemption. [Note à la Première Nation : Cette disposition n'est obligatoire que si l'exemption visée à l'alinéa 12(2)u) est incluse dans la présente loi. Pour fixer le nombre de mois, il faut calculer le nombre de mois prévu dans l'exemption visée à l'alinéa 12(2)u) et y ajouter de 2 à 4 mois supplémentaires.]

(11) Lorsqu'une demande d'exemption est présentée en vertu des articles 15 ou 20 ou qu'une demande de remboursement est faite en vertu des articles 17, 22 ou 23, l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation dans les vingt-quatre (24) mois suivant la date d'enregistrement du transfert taxable auquel se rapporte l'exemption ou le remboursement.

(12) Malgré les délais prévus au présent article, lorsque l'administrateur établit qu'une personne a fait une déclaration inexacte attribuable à la négligence, à un manque d'attention ou à une omission volontaire, ou a commis une fraude en communiquant des renseignements aux termes de la présente loi, en réclamant une exemption ou en demandant un remboursement, ou en omettant de communiquer des renseignements, ou qu'elle n'a pas produit une déclaration exigée par la présente loi, il peut établir la cotisation de taxe et délivrer un avis de cotisation à la personne à tout moment opportun.

33.(1) Le destinataire d'un transfert qui reçoit un avis de cotisation peut demander que l'administrateur réexamine la cotisation de taxe en lui présentant une demande de réexamen dans les soixante (60) jours suivant la date indiquée sur l'avis de cotisation.

(2) La demande de réexamen doit exposer les motifs de la demande ainsi que tous les faits pertinents, y compris une estimation de la juste valeur marchande si cette donnée est pertinente en l'espèce.

(3) Sur réception de la demande de réexamen, l'administrateur procède au réexamen et, dans les trente (30) jours suivant la réception de la demande :

a) soit confirme la cotisation de taxe ou le refus d'accorder un remboursement, selon le cas;

b) soit modifie la cotisation de taxe ou verse un remboursement, selon le cas.

(4) Lorsqu'il confirme la cotisation de taxe ou le refus d'accorder un remboursement en application du paragraphe (3), l'administrateur donne un avis écrit de sa décision au destinataire du transfert.

(5) Lorsqu'il décide de modifier une cotisation de taxe ou de verser un remboursement en application de l'alinéa (3)b), l'administrateur calcule les taxes et les intérêts exigibles sur le transfert taxable, s'il y a lieu, ou le montant du remboursement, selon le cas, et délivre au destinataire du transfert un avis de cotisation modifié qui tient compte de la décision.

(6) L'administrateur peut prolonger le délai dont dispose le destinataire du transfert pour présenter une demande de réexamen si :

a) d'une part, une demande de prolongation lui est présentée avant l'expiration du délai prévu au

paragraphe (1);

b) la demande précise les raisons de la prolongation et la durée du sursis requis.

(7) La décision résultant du réexamen ou l'avis de cotisation modifié délivré aux termes du paragraphe (5) ne peuvent faire l'objet d'une demande de réexamen.

34.(1) Il peut être interjeté appel de la décision de l'administrateur visée à l'article 33 devant un tribunal compétent.

(2) L'appel interjeté en vertu du présent article est entendu dans les soixante (60) jours suivant l'avis de la décision de l'administrateur.

(3) L'appel visé au présent article est une nouvelle audience qui ne se limite pas aux éléments de preuve et aux questions dont l'administrateur était saisi.

(4) Le tribunal peut rejeter ou accueillir l'appel, modifier la décision faisant l'objet de l'appel ou renvoyer la décision à l'administrateur pour réexamen.

(5) Il peut être interjeté appel de la décision du tribunal devant la cour d'appel, avec l'autorisation d'un juge de cette cour.

(2) Le droit à payer pour l'obtention d'un certificat de taxe est de _____ dollars (____ $) pour chaque transfert taxable.

Intérêt

Version courante 2017-11- 03

37. Lorsque la présente loi prévoit le paiement d'intérêts sur les taxes impayées, un intérêt de quinze pour cent (15 %) par année est imposé sur les taxes impayées jusqu'à leur acquittement ou recouvrement.

Pénalité

38. Lorsque la présente loi prévoit l'imposition d'une pénalité sur les taxes impayées, une pénalité de dix pour cent (10 %) – imposée une seule fois – de la partie qui reste à payer est ajoutée au montant des taxes impayées et le montant ainsi ajouté est, à toutes fins utiles, réputé faire partie des taxes.

Pénalité et intérêt dans certains cas

39. Si l'administrateur détermine que le destinataire d'un transfert a fourni des renseignements faux ou trompeurs de l'un des types ci-après, celui-ci doit payer, en plus des taxes exigibles sur le transfert taxable, une pénalité ajoutée à compter de la date d'enregistrement et des intérêts calculés à compter de cette date :

a) des renseignements servant à appuyer une exemption de taxe au titre de la présente loi;

b) des renseignements servant à appuyer une demande de remboursement au titre des articles 17, 22, 23 ou 30;

c) des renseignements relatifs à la juste valeur marchande d'un transfert taxable.

Pénalité et intérêt en cas de défaut de paiement

(2) Sauf dans le cas où des intérêts sont imposés en application des articles 18, 24 ou 39, les taxes qui demeurent impayées le lendemain de la date d'échéance indiquée sur l'avis de cotisation sont frappées d'intérêts qui s'accumulent à compter de ce jour jusqu'à la date où les taxes sont effectivement payées.

PARTIE XI

PERCEPTION ET CONTRÔLE D'APPLICATION

Recouvrement des taxes impayées

(2) Une copie de l'avis de cotisation indiquant les taxes à payer par une personne, certifiée comme copie conforme par l'administrateur, constitue une preuve de la dette fiscale de la personne.

(3) Les frais engagés par la Première Nation pour le recouvrement des taxes impayées et les mesures d'exécution requises sont :

a) calculés conformément à l'annexe VII;

b) payables par le débiteur à titre de taxes impayées.

Avis des mesures d'exécution

l'administrateur donne au contribuable un avis écrit de son intention de le contraindre au paiement.

(2) Le défaut de donner l'avis visé au paragraphe (1) ne porte pas atteinte à la validité des procédures entamées pour le recouvrement des taxes ou des sommes à percevoir comme taxes au titre de la présente loi.

Création de privilèges

43.(1) Les taxes impayées constituent un privilège grevant l'intérêt foncier auquel elles s'appliquent, qui assujettit l'intérêt foncier et lie les détenteurs subséquents de celui-ci.

(2) L'administrateur conserve une liste des privilèges créés aux termes de la présente loi et dépose un avis de chaque privilège au bureau d'enregistrement.

(3) Un privilège figurant sur la liste visée au paragraphe (2) a priorité sur tout privilège, charge, réclamation ou sûreté, enregistré ou non, relatif à l'intérêt foncier.

(4) L'administrateur peut présenter une demande à un tribunal compétent pour assurer la protection ou l'exécution d'un privilège visé au paragraphe (1), s'il estime que cette mesure est nécessaire ou indiquée.

(5) Sur réception du paiement intégral des taxes exigibles ayant donné lieu à la création d'un privilège, l'administrateur enregistre, sans délai, la mainlevée du privilège.

(6) La mainlevée du privilège par l'administrateur constitue la preuve du paiement des taxes relatives à l'intérêt foncier.

(7) Une erreur technique ou une omission commise lors de la création du privilège ou de son inscription sur la liste des privilèges n'entraîne pas la perte ou la diminution du privilège.

contiennent pas de renseignements sous une forme permettant d'identifier des individus ni de renseignements commerciaux permettant d'identifier des entreprises;

b) le Conseil peut communiquer des renseignements et des archives à un tiers à des fins de recherche, y compris la recherche statistique, sous une forme permettant d'identifier des individus ou des entreprises, pourvu que les conditions suivantes soient réunies :

(i) la recherche ne peut vraisemblablement être effectuée que si les renseignements sont fournis sous une forme permettant d'identifier des individus ou des entreprises,

(ii) le tiers a signé une entente avec le Conseil dans laquelle il s'engage à se conformer aux exigences du Conseil concernant l'utilisation, la confidentialité et la sécurité des renseignements.

Validité

46. Aucune disposition de la présente loi ne peut être annulée ou invalidée, et l'obligation d'une personne de payer la taxe ou tout autre montant imposé aux termes de la présente loi ne peut être modifiée, en raison :

a) d'une erreur ou d'une omission dans une détermination ou un calcul fait par l'administrateur, la Première Nation ou toute personne autorisée par celle-ci;

b) d'une cotisation de taxe inexacte ou incomplète, du défaut d'établir une cotisation de taxe, ou d'une erreur, d'un vice ou d'une omission de procédure dans un avis de cotisation ou tout avis donné aux termes de la présente loi;

c) du défaut de la part de l'administrateur, de la Première Nation ou de toute personne autorisée par celle-ci de prendre des mesures dans le délai prévu.

Restriction

(2) Si aucune action ou procédure n'est engagée dans le délai prévu au présent article, les sommes versées à la Première Nation sont réputées avoir été versées de plein gré par l'intéressé.

Avis

48.(1) Lorsque la présente loi exige la transmission d'un avis par la poste ou qu'elle ne précise pas le mode de transmission, l'avis est transmis, selon le cas :

a) par la poste, à l'adresse postale habituelle du destinataire;

b) si l'adresse du destinataire est inconnue, par affichage d'une copie de l'avis dans un endroit bien en vue sur le bien foncier du destinataire;

c) par remise de l'avis en mains propres ou par service de messagerie au destinataire, ou à son adresse postale habituelle.

(2) Sauf disposition contraire de la présente loi :

Interprétation

ANNEXE I

CALCUL DE LA JUSTE VALEUR MARCHANDE

Définition

1. Dans la présente annexe :

a) « loyer » ne vise pas les montants qui sont calculés séparément aux termes d'un bail et qui sont payables au bailleur en remboursement :

(i) soit des taxes,

(ii) soit des dépenses raisonnables liées à l'exploitation de locaux à locataires multiples dont fait partie l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

b) « évaluation » s'entend d'une évaluation effectuée par un évaluateur indépendant qui détient le titre d'évaluateur agréé « AACI » décerné par l'Institut canadien des évaluateurs ou qui est désigné, enregistré ou autorisé par permis à titre d'évaluateur agréé conformément aux lois de la province de la Colombie-Britannique, selon le cas;

c) « valeur imposable » s'entend de la valeur imposable la plus récente d'un intérêt foncier, déterminée conformément au texte législatif sur l'évaluation foncière de la Première Nation pris en vertu du sous-alinéa 5(1)a)(i) de la Loi.

Calcul de la durée d'un bail et d'un domaine viager

2.(1) Sous réserve de l'article 6 et des paragraphes (2), (3) et (5), la durée d'un bail est la somme des éléments suivants :

a) le nombre d'années pour lesquelles le destinataire d'un transfert a le droit d'occuper l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

b) le nombre maximum d'années non comptées en application de l'alinéa a) durant lesquelles le destinataire d'un transfert, par l'exercice de droits ou d'options de renouveler ou de prolonger le bail, peut occuper l'intérêt foncier donné à bail.

(2) Sous réserve du paragraphe (3), la durée d'un bail est la partie non écoulée de la durée calculée conformément au paragraphe (1) à la date d'enregistrement.

(3) Si le bail vise une multipropriété ou un régime de propriété partagée, la durée du bail est calculée en additionnant le nombre d'années durant lesquelles le destinataire d'un transfert peut, pour toute partie d'une année, occuper l'intérêt foncier.

(4) Sous réserve du paragraphe (5), la durée d'un domaine viager est le nombre d'années d'espérance de vie, fondé sur le tableau 3, qu'il reste au détenteur du domaine viager à la date d'enregistrement de celui-ci au bureau d'enregistrement.

(5) La durée d'un bail ou d'un domaine viager qui serait autrement exprimée comme une fraction d'année ou un nombre d'années plus une fraction d'année est arrondie au nombre entier supérieur.

Juste valeur marchande des baux prépayés

Version courante 2017-11- 03

transfert, si :

a) d'une part, le loyer prévu au bail n'est soumis à aucun rajustement ni révision et a été payé pour la durée du bail avant la date d'enregistrement ou sera payé dans un délai d'un (1) an suivant cette date;

b) d'autre part, le bailleur et le destinataire du transfert n'ont pas de lien de dépendance entre eux.

(2) Dans le cas où le bailleur a un lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert, la juste valeur marchande est égale au montant qui aurait été payé si l'intérêt foncier à bail avait été vendu à la date d'enregistrement sur le marché libre par un vendeur consentant à un acheteur consentant, libre de toute fiducie et non grevé d'un jugement ordonnant un paiement en espèces ou d'une hypothèque ou autre instrument financier garantissant le paiement d'une somme ou l'exécution d'une obligation.

Juste valeur marchande des baux d'une durée maximale de 30 ans

4.(1) La juste valeur marchande d'un transfert comportant l'octroi ou le transfert d'un bail :

a) auquel l'article 3 ne s'applique pas,

b) dont la durée n'excède pas trente (30) ans,

c) dont le bailleur n'a pas de lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert, est égale, sous réserve du choix exercé en vertu du paragraphe (2), au montant calculé selon la formule suivante :

CF + (PAL x FVA)

où :

CF représente la contrepartie forfaitaire payée par le destinataire du transfert pour l'octroi ou le transfert du bail, y compris les améliorations situées sur le bien foncier à bail;

PAL représente le paiement annuel de loyer à verser la dernière année pour laquelle des loyers sont établis aux termes du bail;

FVA représente le facteur de valeur actualisée prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 2 en regard du nombre d'années indiqué à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail.

(2) Le destinataire du transfert peut choisir de calculer la juste valeur marchande du bail conformément à l'article 5.

Juste valeur marchande des autres baux

où :

VFS représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt en fief simple, y compris les améliorations se trouvant sur l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail.

(2) Pour l'application du paragraphe (1), lorsqu'une partie des améliorations sur une parcelle de terre

sont louées, la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt foncier donné à bail est calculée selon la formule suivante :

$$\frac{\text{VFS x P x SLTIB}}{\text{SLT}}$$

où :

VFS représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt en fief simple, y compris les améliorations, où est situé l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail;

SLTIB représente la superficie louable totale de l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

SLT représente la superficie louable totale des améliorations se trouvant sur les terres où est situé l'intérêt foncier donné à bail.

(3) La VFS visée aux paragraphes (1) et (2) correspond à la valeur imposable de l'intérêt foncier à bail, si cette donnée est disponible.

(4) Si la valeur imposable n'est pas disponible, l'administrateur peut :

a) soit calculer la VFS en utilisant les meilleures données disponibles, y compris notamment la valeur imposable ou les données d'évaluation de biens fonciers comparables;

b) soit exiger du destinataire du transfert qu'il fournisse à ses frais une évaluation de la VFS.

(5) Si l'administrateur calcule la VFS en application de l'alinéa (4)a), le destinataire du transfert peut, dans les dix (10) jours après que l'administrateur lui a donné avis de la VFS ainsi calculée, choisir de fournir une évaluation de la VFS à ses frais, auquel cas il dispose d'un délai supplémentaire de vingt et un (21) jours ou de tout autre délai qu'accepte l'administrateur.

(6) Si le destinataire du transfert fournit l'évaluation visée au paragraphe (5), l'administrateur est tenu d'utiliser la VFS fondée sur cette évaluation pour l'application du présent article.

a) la durée du bail avant la prolongation accordée par la convention de modification du bail, calculée conformément au paragraphe 2(1) sans égard au paragraphe 2(2) à compter de la date de signature initiale de la convention de bail; [Note à la Première Nation : Si l'exemption visée à l'alinéa 12(2)(v) n'est pas incluse, il faudrait supprimer cet alinéa et renuméroter en conséquence.]

b) le nombre d'années, selon le paragraphe 2(5), dont le bail est prolongé grâce à la convention de modification du bail.

(3) Sous réserve du paragraphe (5), si la durée de la convention de modification du bail est de cent

Version courante 2017-11- 03

(100) ou moins, la juste valeur marchande de celle-ci est calculée selon la formule suivante :

CF + (PAL x FVA)

où :

CF représente la contrepartie forfaitaire payée par le destinataire du transfert pour la modification du bail, y compris les améliorations situées sur le bien foncier à bail;

PAL représente le paiement annuel du loyer à verser la dernière année pour laquelle des loyers sont établis aux termes du bail tel que prolongé par la convention de modification du bail;

FVA représente le facteur de valeur actualisée prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 2 en regard du nombre d'années indiqué à la colonne 1 qui correspond au nombre d'années applicable selon l'alinéa (1)b).

(4) Si la durée de la convention de modification du bail dépasse cent (100) ans, l'article 5 s'applique aux fins du calcul de la juste valeur marchande de celle-ci, sauf que l'élément « P » est égal au pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond au nombre d'années applicable selon l'alinéa (1)b).

(5) Le destinataire du transfert peut choisir de calculer la juste valeur marchande du bail conformément à l'article 5 avec la modification prévue au paragraphe (4).

Juste valeur marchande des domaines viagers

7. La juste valeur marchande d'un domaine viager sur un bail est le montant calculé selon la formule suivante :

où :

VIB représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt foncier à bail, calculée :

a) comme si le domaine viager n'existait pas;

b) conformément aux articles 3, 4 ou 5, selon le cas;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du domaine viager.

Transferts avec lien de dépendance

8. Lorsque l'auteur du transfert a un lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert, l'administrateur peut :

a) soit utiliser la valeur imposable;

b) soit obliger le destinataire du transfert à fournir à ses frais avec sa déclaration, le cas échéant, une évaluation de l'un ou l'autre des éléments suivants :

(i) le montant visé au paragraphe 3(2),

(ii) le PAL visé aux articles 4 ou 6 qui serait payé sur le marché libre à la date d'enregistrement par le destinataire d'un transfert sans lien de dépendance,

(iii) la VFS visée à l'article 5 qui serait payée sur le marché libre à la date d'enregistrement par le destinataire d'un transfert sans lien de dépendance.

(2) For the purpose of calculating tax payable under this Law, a person registered in the registry as the holder of the interest in land, other than a person registered only as the owner of a charge, is deemed to be the legal and beneficial holder of the interest in the land, even if the person holds the interest in land in trust.

(3) For the purposes of this Law, a person is considered to have only one (1) principal residence at a time.

(4) In this Law, references to a Part (e.g. Part I), section (e.g. section 1), subsection (e.g. subsection 2(1)), paragraph (e.g. paragraph 3(4)(a)) or Schedule (e.g. Schedule I) is a reference to the specified Part, section, subsection, paragraph or Schedule of this Law, except where otherwise stated.

PART III
ADMINISTRATION

Administrator

3.(1) Council must appoint an administrator to oversee the administration and enforcement of this Law.

(2) The administrator must fulfill the responsibilities given to the administrator under this Law and such other duties assigned to the administrator by the First Nation from time to time.

(3) The administrator may, with the consent of [insert title], assign the performance of any duties of the administrator to any officer, employee, contractor or agent of the First Nation.

(4) The administrator must, in each year no later than [insert date], report to Council on the administration of this Law during the previous fiscal year, which report must include

(a) the amount of all taxes levied;

(b) the amount of all taxes received;

(c) the amount of any exemptions from taxes;

(d) the amount of any refunds of taxes;

(e) a list of all requests for reconsideration received by the administrator and the decision made respecting each request;

(f) any appeals filed; and

(g) any enforcement proceedings taken.

Revenues and Expenditures

4. Taxes collected by the First Nation must be placed in the local revenue account of the First Nation and expended under the authority of an expenditure law or in accordance with section 13.1 of the Act.

PART IV
TAX LIABILITY AND LEVY

Tax Liability

5.(1) This Law applies to all interests in land, and every transferee is subject to tax at the time of application for registration of a conveyance in respect of an interest in land in accordance with this Law.

(2) Except where an exemption applies as provided in Part V, a tax

(a) is levied and imposed on an interest in land at the time of the application for registration of a conveyance relating to that interest in land; and

(b) must be paid by the transferee in accordance with this Law.

(3) A person who is a transferee of a conveyance is liable for the tax even if

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(a) that person is also liable to pay taxes imposed under other property taxation laws of the First Nation; or

(b) the interest in land acquired by a co-transferee of the conveyance is exempt from tax under this Law.

(4) Where there is more than one (1) transferee in respect of a conveyance, each transferee is jointly and severally liable to the First Nation for the tax imposed under this Law.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to a co-transferee of a conveyance who is exempt from tax under this Law.

(6) Taxes are due and payable under this Law notwithstanding any proceeding initiated or remedy sought by a taxpayer respecting those taxes, including without limitation respecting the assessment of taxes, the applicability of an exemption or refund, or the taxpayer's liability to taxation.

Tax Payment and Filing Return

6.(1) On application for registration of a conveyance in the registry, the transferee must

(a) pay the tax computed at the rate set out in this Law; and

(b) file a completed Return in accordance with this Law, whether or not the conveyance is exempt from tax under this Law.

(2) The registry must refuse to accept an application for registration of a conveyance if

(a) the transferee does not pay the tax owing at the time of registration;

(b) the transferee does not file a completed Return; or

(c) the administrator or the registry staff have reasonable grounds to believe that the Return is incomplete, or the transferee does not qualify for an exemption being claimed on the Return.

(3) Payment of taxes must be made by cheque, money order or electronic transfer.

(4) Payments by cheque or money order must be made payable to the _____ First Nation, and payments by electronic transfer must be made as directed by the administrator.

(5) The First Nation must issue a receipt to the taxpayer for taxes paid under this Law.

Payment of Estimated Tax

7.(1) Despite section 6, where the amount of tax owing on a conveyance cannot be determined on the registration date because an appraisal or other valuation information is required to determine the value of the consideration of the conveyance, the administrator may, on the request of the transferee,

(a) estimate the tax owing using the best information available to the administrator on the registration date; and

(b) authorize the registry to accept the application for registration of the conveyance on payment by the transferee of the administrator's estimate of the tax owing.

(2) Where a transferee makes a payment of estimated tax owing under subsection (1), the administrator must, on receipt of the appraisal or other valuation information, determine the tax owing on the conveyance.

(3) Despite subsection (2), if the transferee was required to provide the appraisal or other valuation information and the transferee does not provide the information within the required time, the administrator must determine the tax owing on the conveyance on the registration date, based on the best information available to the administrator at the time of the determination under this subsection.

(4) Where the administrator makes a determination of tax owing under subsection (2) or (3), the administrator must deliver a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment to the transferee and section 21 applies.

Tax Rate

8.(1) The tax levied under this Law must be computed at the rate of

(a) one half of one percent (0.5 %) of the value of the consideration for the conveyance up to and including fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000);

(b) one percent (1 %) of the value of the consideration for the conveyance that exceeds fifty-five thousand dollars ($55,000) up to and including two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000);

(c) one and one-half percent (1.5 %) of the value of the consideration for the conveyance that exceeds two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) up to and including four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000); and

(d) two percent (2 %) of the value of the consideration for the conveyance that exceeds four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000).

(2) In addition to the rates set out in subsection (1), if the value of the consideration for the conveyance exceeds $2,000,000 and the conveyance is a conveyance of an interest in land that contains at least one (1) and not more than two (2) single family residences, an additional tax must be added at the rate of one-half of one percent (.5%) of the amount by which the value of the consideration exceeds $2,000,000.

(3) If a transferee

(a) applies to register a conveyance, and

(b) within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a) applies to register one or more additional conveyances respecting the same interest in land,

the tax owing on the conveyance referred to in paragraph (b) must be calculated based on the total value of the consideration of the conveyances referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all the conveyances referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) were one conveyance.

(4) If

(a) a transferee applies to register a conveyance, and

(b) one or more members of his or her family apply, as transferees, at the same time as or within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a), to register one (1) or more conveyances respecting the same interest in land for which the transferor is not the person referred to in paragraph (a), the tax owing must be calculated based on the total value of consideration of the conveyances referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all those conveyances were a single conveyance, and the transferees referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) are jointly and severally liable to pay the total tax owing.

(5) If

(a) a transferee that is a corporation (in this subsection and subsection (6) called the "corporate transferee") applies for registration of a conveyance, and

(b) one or more corporations associated with the corporate transferee apply, as transferees, at the same time as or within six (6) months after the application referred to in paragraph (a), for registration of one or more conveyances respecting the same interest in land for which the transferor is not the corporate transferee, the tax owing on the conveyances must be calculated based on the total value of the consideration of the conveyances referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as if all those conveyances were a single conveyance, and the transferees referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) are jointly and severally liable to pay that total tax.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (5), a corporation is associated with a corporate transferee if the corporation and the corporate transferee are associated, within the meaning of section 256 of the Income Tax Act (Canada), on the registration date of the conveyance referred to in subsection (5).

[Note to First Nation: Subsection (7) is an optional provision where the First Nation can set an amount below which the tax will not be levied. A First Nation may wish to set this amount so that it does not collect tax on conveyances with low values where the administrative costs may exceed the tax that would be collected. Having a minimum threshold could be used instead of providing an exemption for leases with lower terms.]

(7) Despite subsection (1), a tax in an amount of less than_____ ($___) must not be levied on a conveyance.

Tax Return

9.(1) A Return must be dated and certified by

(a) each transferee of the conveyance to which the Return relates, or an agent authorized in writing to make the Return on the transferee's behalf;

(b) the solicitor acting in the transaction as the solicitor for the transferee;

(c) the presiding officer authorized to act for a corporation that is a transferee, or the vice-president, secretary, director or treasurer authorized to act for such corporation; or

(d) either of two transferees who are spouses of each other and both of whom are transferees, where the transferee certifying the Return is acting on behalf of the other of such transferees.

(2) The Return must state that the person making it has personal knowledge of the facts stated in it, and it must also state, where applicable, the capacity in which the person certifying the Return has acted and the name of any transferee on whose behalf the person is certifying the Return.

Records to be Kept

10.(1) Every person required by this Law to deliver a Return must keep at their place of residence in Ontario or at their principal place of business in Ontario such documents, records and accounts in such form and containing such information as will enable an accurate determination of the taxes payable under this Law.

(2) Records referenced under subsection (1) must be kept for at least seven (7) years after the registration date of the conveyance to which they relate.

PART V

EXEMPTIONS FROM TAXATION

[Note to First Nation: First Nations must decide what, if any, exemptions to provide from the property transfer tax. Exemptions can be included that are the same type of exemptions found in similar provincial legislation. Exemptions can also be given for transfers to members. Please refer to the Commission Standards for further information on exemptions. Note that all exemptions must be set out in this Law. What follows are examples of exemptions the First Nation may wish to consider including in its Law.]

Applicability of Exemptions

11.(1) A transferee is exempt from taxation on a conveyance under this Law where

(a) the conveyance is within any of the descriptions set out in sections 12 and 13; and

(b) the transferee files a claim for the exemption concurrently with the transferee's completed Return and application for registration of the conveyance in the registry.

(2) A claim for an exemption under this section must

(a) be in the form required by the administrator;

(b) provide sufficient information for the administrator to confirm that the conveyance or the transferee, as the case may be, qualifies for the exemption claimed; and

(c) include a consent by the transferee to the administrator conducting inquiries respecting the conveyance and the transferee that the administrator considers necessary to confirm the qualification for the exemption.

Exemptions from Tax

12.(1) A transferee is exempt from taxation on a conveyance under this Law where the conveyance is

(a) from a transferor who is the spouse or former spouse of the transferee and at least one (1) of the following conditions is met:

(i) the only consideration given for the conveyance apart from natural love and affection is the assumption of any encumbrances burdening the interest in land,

(ii) the conveyance is in compliance with the terms of a written agreement pursuant to which the parties have agreed to live separate and apart, or

(iii) the conveyance is in compliance with the direction of an order or judgment made by a court of competent jurisdiction under an applicable provincial, federal or First Nation enactment respecting the division of matrimonial or family property;

(b) from a transferor to or in trust for or vested in a dependent of the transferor pursuant to an order made by a court of competent jurisdiction under an applicable provincial, federal or First Nation enactment respecting the division of matrimonial or family property;

[Note to First Nation: A First Nation may wish to include the exemption in paragraph (c) where it wishes to exempt the transfer of a head lease where the developer will be subdividing the head lease parcel for resale within not more than a five-year time frame. The First Nation would then collect the tax on each resale of the subdivided property, but not on the initial lease transfer.]

(c) of a lease for an interest in land that is intended for subdivision, development and resale of at least five (5) parcels on the land, provided that the transferee completes a subdivision to create at least five (5) parcels within _____ (_) years after the registration date. [Note to First Nation: The number of years must not be more than five.]

[Note to First Nation: The exemption in paragraph (d) would exempt from the property transfer tax all leases having a term of 50 years or less, following the exemption given in Ontario. In deciding whether to include this exemption, the First Nation may wish to consider the nature of the leasehold interests on its lands, and how this exemption could impact its property transfer tax regime. If this exemption is included, a First Nation may consider adding the wording in subsection (2) to prevent transferees from "stacking" leases. If this exemption is not included, consider deleting s. 6(1)(a) of Schedule I, as the tax will have already been paid on an initial term under 50 years and therefore should not be counted again for a lease modification agreement.]

(d) of a lease (other than a lease modification agreement) with an unexpired term that cannot exceed fifty (50) years remaining as of the registration date, including any renewals or extensions of the term provided for in the lease or in a separate option to lease or other document entered into as part of the arrangement relating to the lease (whether or not the lessee and the optionee or person named in the document are the same persons).

SAMPLE

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(2) Despite paragraph (1)(d), the exemption from taxation in that paragraph does not apply to a conveyance where

(a) two (2) or more conveyances are made in respect of the same interest in land;

(b) the applications for registration of the conveyances are made at the registry within six (6) months of each other;

(c) each of the conveyances provides a term during which a person is given a right to occupy the interest in land under a lease; and

(d) the terms referred to in paragraph (c) exceed fifty (50) years in total.

Additional Exemptions

13.(1) A transferee is exempt from taxation on a conveyance under this Law where the conveyance is to

(a) the First Nation as the sole transferee;

(b) a First Nation Corporation as the sole transferee;

(c) a member where, in respect of the conveyance,

(i) the member is the only transferee,

(ii) all of the transferees are members, or

(iii) the member and the member's spouse are the only transferees,

provided that the transferee will hold the interest in land directly and not as a trustee;

(d) a trustee who will hold the interest in land in trust only for the sole benefit of one (1) or more members and no other person.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), where an exemption is given under paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d), the First Nation must

(a) pay into the local revenue account an amount equivalent to the taxes that would have been payable by the exempted person or corporation had the exemption not applied; and

(b) make the payment under paragraph (a) using moneys that are not local revenues.

(3) The requirement in subsection (2) does not apply to an exemption given under paragraph (1)(b) where all of the shares in the First Nation Corporation are held in trust for the benefit of the First Nation or all of the members of the First Nation.

PART VI

REVIEWS, INFORMATION REQUESTS AND INSPECTIONS

14.(1) The administrator must review every Return, every claim for an exemption, and every application for a refund submitted under this Law.

(2) The administrator may determine whether

(a) a Return is accurate;

(b) a claim for an exemption is accurate;

(c) an application for a refund is accurate;

(d) the tax owing has been paid as required by this Law; and

(e) any provision of this Law has been contravened.

Request for Information or Documents

15.(1) The administrator may, for any purpose related to the administration or enforcement of this Law, deliver a Request for Information or Documents to any person, including a transferor, a transferee, or a holder of an interest in land on which tax has or should have been levied, and that person must provide to the administrator, within fourteen (14) days or a longer period as specified in the Request, such books, letters, accounts, invoices, financial statements or such other documents as the administrator considers necessary to determine compliance with this Law.

(2) The administrator is not bound by any information provided under subsection (1), and may, despite any information delivered or if no information is delivered, make a tax assessment in respect of taxes payable, or make any other determination or take such action as the administrator determines appropriate.

Inspections

16.(1) The administrator or another person authorized by the First Nation may, for any purpose related to the administration or enforcement of this Law, at all reasonable times enter into any premises or place where any business is carried on or any property is kept, or where anything is done in connection with any business or where any books or records are or should be kept, and,

(a) audit or examine the books and records and any account or other document that relates or may relate to the information that is or should be in the books or records or to an amount payable under this Law;

(b) examine property described in any conveyance or any property, process or matter which may, in his or her opinion, assist in determining the accuracy of any Return required by this Law or in ascertaining the information that is or should be in the books or records or in a Return, or in ascertaining any amount payable under this Law; and

(c) require a transferee who is liable or possibly liable to pay tax under this Law, and any officer, director, agent or representative of that transferee or any person on the premises,

(i) to give him or her all reasonable assistance with his or her audit or examination,

(ii) to answer all questions relating to the audit or examination either orally or, if he or she so requires, in writing, on oath or by statutory declaration, and

(iii) to attend at the premises or place with him or her for the purposes of giving reasonable assistance and answering questions relating to the audit or examination.

(2) If a record has been inspected or produced under this section, the person by whom it is inspected or to whom it is produced may make copies of that record.

(3) A person must not obstruct a person doing anything that he or she is authorized by this section to do.

PART VII

REFUNDS

Refund of Taxes Paid

17.(1) If a person has paid tax pursuant to a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment and, as a result of

(a) a decision of the administrator under section 22, or

(b) an order of the court under section 23,

the tax payable is less than the amount actually paid, the administrator must refund the excess tax paid, including interest on the amount overpaid calculated in accordance with subsection (3).

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(2) If, after a person has paid tax under section 6,

(a) the person withdraws the application for registration, or

(b) the application for registration is rejected and not resubmitted,

the administrator must refund the tax paid, including interest calculated in accordance with subsection (3).

(3) Where interest is payable on a refund of taxes under this Law, the administrator must calculate the interest payable as follows:

(a) interest accrues from the date that the taxes were originally paid to the First Nation;

(b) the interest rate during each successive three (3) month period beginning on January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1 in every year is two percent (2%) below the prime lending rate of the principal banker to the First Nation on the 15th day of the month immediately preceding that three (3) month period;

(c) interest will not be compounded; and

(d) interest stops running on the earliest of the day payment of the money owed is mailed, delivered or actually received by the person to whom it is owed.

Refund of Taxes on Application

18.(1) Where a person has paid an amount as tax under this Law in circumstances where there was no legal obligation to pay the amount as tax, the person may apply to the administrator for a refund of the amount paid.

(2) To claim a refund under subsection (1), a person must

(a) submit to the administrator a written application, in the form required by the administrator, signed by the person who paid the amount claimed; and

(b) provide sufficient evidence to satisfy the administrator that the person who paid the amount is entitled to the refund.

(3) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), if the person who paid the amount claimed is a corporation, the application must be signed by an authorized signatory of the corporation.

(4) Where the administrator receives an application for a refund under this section and is satisfied that person paid an amount as tax in circumstances where there was no legal obligation to pay the amount as tax, the administrator must refund that amount to the person entitled to it, without interest.

(5) As a limitation on subsection (4), the administrator must not provide a refund for an amount paid more than four (4) years before the date on which the application for a refund is submitted under paragraph (2)(a). [Note to First Nation: Must be at least 2 years. In Ontario, the time limit is 4 years.]

(6) Where the administrator determines that a refund is not payable under this section, the administrator must give a written notice to the transferee stating the reasons a refund is not payable and the notice is deemed to be a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment for the purpose of allowing the taxpayer to make a Request for Reconsideration under this Law.

[Note to First Nation: Section 19 provides for a first-time home buyers' refund, similar to the refund program offered in Ontario. First Nations who do not wish to provide for this refund should delete this section and renumber the remaining sections of the Law accordingly.]

Refund on Purchase of Qualifying Home

19.(1) In this section,

"purchaser" means an individual who is at least eighteen (18) years of age, who is a Canadian citizen or

Current ver. 2017 11 03

permanent resident of Canada, and who has never owned a qualifying home anywhere in the world and whose spouse has not owned a qualifying home anywhere in the world while he or she was a spouse of the individual; and

"qualifying home" means

(a) a detached house;

(b) a semi-detached house, including a dwelling house that is joined to another dwelling house at the footing or foundation by a wall above or below grade or both above and below grade;

(c) a townhouse;

(d) a share or shares of the capital stock of a co-operative corporation if the share or shares are acquired for the purpose of acquiring the right to inhabit a housing unit owned by the corporation;

(e) a manufactured home that is suitable for year-round permanent residential occupation;

(f) a condominium unit;

(g) a residential dwelling that is a duplex, triplex or fourplex; or

(h) a partial ownership interest as a tenant in common of real property if the ownership interest was acquired for the purpose of acquiring the right to inhabit a housing unit forming part of the real property.

(2) The administrator must refund, in accordance with this section and without interest, the tax payable under this Law by a purchaser in respect of the acquisition by the purchaser of a qualifying home to be used by the purchaser as his or her principal residence, provided the purchaser occupies the home as his or her principal residence no later than nine (9) months after the registration date of the conveyance.

(3) If an individual who would otherwise be eligible for a refund under subsection (2) is not eligible because the individual is not a purchaser within the meaning of subsection (1) because the individual is not a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada on the registration date, that individual is eligible for the refund if he or she becomes a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada within eighteen (18) months after the registration date of the conveyance.

(4) The maximum amount of tax refundable under subsection (2) in respect of the acquisition of a qualifying home is four thousand dollars ($4000).

(5) If the purchaser is not the only transferee in respect of a conveyance, the refund payable under subsection (2) to the purchaser must be reduced to the portion of the refund, determined for all transferees, applicable to,

(a) the purchaser's interest acquired under the conveyance; and

(b) the interest of the spouse of the purchaser who previously owned a qualifying home anywhere in the world prior to the time he or she became the spouse of the purchaser, if the spouse is named in the conveyance and is a Canadian citizen or a permanent resident of Canada on the registration date, or becomes a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada within eighteen (18) months after the registration date.

(6) An application for a refund under this section may be made at the time of application for registration of the conveyance, and must be made before the expiration of eighteen (18) months after the registration date of the conveyance.

(7) Where a purchaser makes an application for a refund at the time of application for registration of the conveyance, the administrator may deduct from the tax payable the amount of the refund under this section.

(8) An application for a refund under this section must

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(a) be in the form required by the administrator;

(b) include a declaration that the transferee meets all of the requirements set out in this section;

(c) provide sufficient information to confirm that the interest in land is a qualifying home; and

(d) include a consent by the transferee to the administrator conducting inquiries respecting the transferee that the administrator considers necessary to confirm the qualifications of the transferee for the refund.

Recovery of a Refund Wrongly Obtained

20.(1) If a refund is made under this Law and the administrator subsequently determines that the person was not entitled to the refund, or was entitled only to a refund in a lesser amount, the amount of the refund to which the person was not entitled is deemed to be tax imposed by section 6 which was required to have been paid by the person on the date the refund was made to the person.

(2) Where the administrator makes a determination under subsection (1), the administrator must give a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment to the person stating the reasons the person was not entitled to the refund, or was entitled only to a refund in a lesser amount, and the amount of taxes payable, including interest and penalties where section 28 applies.

PART VIII

ASSESSMENT, RECONSIDERATION AND APPEAL

Tax Assessment by Administrator

21.(1) The administrator may determine, in respect of a conveyance, and on information available to the administrator,

(a) the value of the consideration of a conveyance;

(b) the applicability of an exemption claimed under this Law;

(c) the applicability of a refund under section 19; and

(d) the tax owing by a transferee under this Law.

(2) If the administrator determines that

(a) the value of the consideration indicated on a Return is not correct,

(b) an exemption claimed by a transferee is not applicable,

(c) a refund applied for by a transferee under section 19 is in whole or in part refused, or

(d) for any reason a transferee has not paid the correct amount of tax, the administrator must make a tax assessment and deliver a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment to the transferee.

(3) The Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment must set out, as applicable,

(a) the name and address of the transferee;

(b) a description of the interest in land;

(c) the administrator's determination of the value of the consideration of the conveyance;

(d) the administrator's determination of the applicability of an exemption claimed by the transferee;

(e) the administrator's determination of the applicability of a refund under section 19;

(f) the administrator's determination of the total amount of tax payable on the conveyance;

(g) the amount of tax paid by the transferee;

(h) any penalty and interest owing by the transferee under Part X, as of the date of the Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment;

(i) the balance of tax owing or overpaid; and

(j) the date of the Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment.

(4) The delivery of a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment by the administrator constitutes a statement of and demand for payment of the taxes where taxes are owing.

(5) Where a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment indicates an overpayment of taxes, the administrator must refund any excess taxes that have been paid, in accordance with this Law.

(6) Where a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment indicates taxes owing, the taxes are due and payable within thirty (30) days after the date shown on the Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment, whether or not a taxpayer delivers a Request for Reconsideration in respect of the tax assessment.

(7) Subject to being varied on reconsideration, or varied or vacated on appeal, a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment is valid and binding despite any error, defect, omission, or error in procedure.

(8) Except as provided in subsections (9), (10) or (11), the administrator must issue a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment within one (1) year after the registration date of a conveyance.

(9) Where a claim for an exemption is made under paragraph 12(1)(c), the administrator must issue a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment within _____ (__) months after the registration date of the conveyance relating to the exemption. [Note to First Nation: This provision is only required if the exemption set out in paragraph 12(1)(c) is included in the law. Determine the number of months by determining the number of months provided for in the exemption under paragraph 12(1)(c) and adding an additional 2 to 4 months.]

(10) Where an application for a refund is made under section 19, the administrator must issue a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment within twenty-four (24) months after the registration date of the conveyance relating to the refund.

(11) Despite the time limitations set out in this section, where the administrator determines that a person has made any misrepresentation that is attributable to neglect, carelessness or willful default, or has committed any fraud, in supplying any information under this Law, in claiming an exemption or applying for a refund, or in omitting to disclose any information, or the person has failed to deliver a Return required by this Law, the administrator may make a tax assessment and deliver a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment to that person at any time.

Reconsideration of Tax Assessment

22.(1) A transferee who receives a Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment may request that the administrator reconsider that tax assessment by delivering a Request for Reconsideration to the administrator within sixty (60) days after the date shown on the Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment.

(2) A Request for Reconsideration must include the reasons for the request and set out all relevant facts, including an estimate of the value of the consideration of the conveyance if that information is relevant to the request.

(3) On receipt of the Request for Reconsideration, the administrator must consider the request and, within thirty (30) days after receiving the Request for Reconsideration, either

(a) confirm the assessment or the refusal to provide a refund, as the case may be; or

(b) vary the assessment or provide a refund, as the case may be.

(4) Where, under subsection (3), the administrator confirms the assessment or the refusal to provide a refund, the administrator must give a written notice of that decision to the transferee.

(5) Where, under subsection (3), the administrator decides to vary an assessment or provide a refund, the administrator must determine the taxes and interest owing on the conveyance, if any, or the refund payable, as the case may be, and deliver an amended Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment to the transferee reflecting the decision.

(6) The administrator may extend the time limit for a transferee to deliver a Request for Reconsideration where

(a) an application for extension is made before the expiry of the time allowed under subsection (1); and

(b) the application contains the reason for the extension and specifies the period of time applied for.

(7) A Request for Reconsideration may not be made in respect of a reconsideration decision, or in respect of an amended Notice of Property Transfer Tax Assessment given under subsection (5).

Appeal to Court

FAIR MARKET VALUE DETERMINATION

Interpretation

1. In this Schedule,

(a) a reference to the "rent" does not include an amount that is separately calculated under a lease and is payable to a lessor in reimbursement for

(i) taxes, or

(ii) reasonable expenses relating to the operation of a multi-tenant premises of which the demised interest in land forms a part;

(b) "appraisal" means an appraisal conducted by an independent appraiser who is designated Accredited Appraiser Canadian Institute by the Appraisal Institute of Canada or designated, registered or licensed as a certified appraiser under the laws of the Province of Ontario, as applicable; and

(c) "assessed value" means the most recent assessed value of an interest in land determined in accordance with the First Nation's assessment law made under subparagraph 5(1)(a)(i) of the Act.

Determination of Lease Term and Life Estate Term

2.(1) Subject to section 6, and subsections (2), (3) and (5), the term of a lease is the sum of

(a) the number of years for which a transferee has the right to occupy the demised interest in land; and

(b) the maximum number of years not counted under paragraph (a) that, by the exercise of rights or options to renew or extend the lease, the transferee may occupy the demised interest in land.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the term of a lease is the unexpired portion of the term determined under subsection (1) on the registration date.

(3) If the lease is a time-share or fractional ownership plan, the term of the lease must be determined by adding together the number of years during which the transferee may, for any part of a year, occupy the interest in land.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), the term of a life estate is the number of years of life expectancy based on Table 3 remaining to the holder of the life estate on the registration date of the life estate in the registry.

(5) Where the term of a lease or life estate would otherwise be expressed as a fraction of a year or as a number of years plus a fraction of a year, the term must be rounded up to the next whole number.

Fair Market Value of Prepaid Leases

3.(1) The fair market value of a conveyance involving a prepaid lease is the amount of the purchase price paid by the transferee in money and any other consideration, where

(a) the rent under the lease is not subject to adjustment or renegotiation and has been paid for the term of the lease before the registration date or will be paid within one (1) year of that date; and

(b) the lessor and the transferee deal with each other at arm's-length.

(2) If a lessor and a transferee are not at arm's-length, the fair market value is the amount that would have been paid if the leasehold interest in land had been sold on the registration date in the open market by a willing seller to a willing purchaser free of any trust and unencumbered by a judgment for the payment of money, or a mortgage, or any other financial instrument that secures the payment of money or the performance of an obligation.

Fair Market Value of Lease Having a Term Not Exceeding 30 Years

4.(1) The fair market value of a conveyance involving a lease

(a) to which section 3 does not apply,

(b) the term of which does not exceed thirty (30) years, and

(c) where the lessor and the transferee deal with each other at arm's-length, is, subject to an election under subsection (2), the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$LSC + (ARP \times PVF)$$

where

LSC = any lump sum consideration paid by the transferee for the grant or transfer of the lease, including for any improvements on the leasehold property;

ARP = the annual rent payment to be made during the last year for which rents are fixed pursuant to a lease; and

PVF = the present value factor set out in Column 2 of Table 2 that is opposite the number of years in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease.

(2) The transferee may elect to calculate the fair market value of the lease under section 5.

Fair Market Value of Other Leases

5.(1) Subject to subsection (2), the fair market value of a conveyance to which section 4 does not apply is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$VSI \times P$$

where

VSI = the fair market value of the fee simple interest, including improvements, in the demised interest in land; and

P = the percentage set out in Column 2 of Table 1 opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) where part of the improvements on a parcel of land are leased, the fair market value of the demised interest in land is determined in accordance with the following formula:

$$\frac{VSI \times P \times ARADP}{ARA}$$

where

VSI = the fair market value of the fee simple interest, including improvements, within which the demised interest in land is situated;

P = the percentage set out in Column 2 of Table 1 opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the lease;

ARADP = the aggregate rentable area of the demised interest in land; and

ARA = the aggregate rentable area of the improvements on the land within which the demised interest in land is situated.

(3) The VSI in subsections (1) and (2) is the assessed value of the leasehold interest in land, if available.

(4) If an assessed value is not available, the administrator may

(a) determine the VSI using the best available data, which may include assessed values or appraisal

Current ver. 2017 11 03

data of comparable properties; or

(b) require the transferee to provide an appraisal of the VSI at the transferee's cost.

(5) If the administrator determines the VSI under paragraph (4)(a), the transferee may, within ten (10) days after the administrator advised the transferee of the VSI, elect to provide an appraisal of the VSI to the administrator at the transferee's cost and within an additional twenty-one (21) days or such additional time frame as agreed to by the administrator.

(6) If the transferee provides an appraisal under subsection (5), the administrator must use the VSI determined by the appraisal for the purposes of this section.

Fair Market Value of a Lease Modification Agreement

6.(1) The term of the lease modification agreement for the purposes of this section is the sum of

(b) the number of years, applying subsection 2(5), by which the lease is extended by the lease modification agreement.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b), options or rights to renew or extend the lease pursuant to the lease modification agreement are deemed exercised to give the maximum possible extension.

(3) Subject to subsection (5), where the term of the lease modification agreement is one hundred (100) years or less, its fair market value is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

where

LSC = any lump sum consideration paid by the transferee for the lease modification, including for any improvements on the leasehold property;

ARP = the annual rent payment to be made during the last year for which rents are fixed pursuant to the lease as extended by the lease modification agreement; and

PVF = the present value factor set out in Column 2 of Table 2 that is opposite the number of years in Column 1 that corresponds to the number of years applicable under paragraph (1)(b).

(4) Where the term of the lease modification agreement exceeds one hundred years (100) years, section 5 applies for the purpose of calculating the fair market value of the lease modification agreement except that "P" equals the percentage in Column 2 of Table 1 that is opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the number of years applicable under paragraph (1)(b).

(5) The transferee may elect to calculate the fair market value of the lease under section 5 as modified by subsection (4).

Fair Market Value of Life Estates

7. The fair market value of a life estate in a lease is the amount determined in accordance with the following formula:

where

VFS = the fair market value of the leasehold interest in land determined

(a) as though the life estate did not exist; and

Current ver. 2017 11 03

(b) under section 3, 4 or 5 as applicable.

P = the percentage in Column 2 of Table 1 that is opposite the period in Column 1 that corresponds to the term of the life estate.

Transfers That Are Not Arm's-Length

8. Where a transferor and a transferee do not deal with each other at arm's-length, the administrator may

(a) use the assessed value; or

(b) require the transferee to provide with the Return, as applicable and at the transferee's cost, an appraisal of

(i) the valuation required under subsection 3(2),

(ii) the ARP under section 4 or section 6 that would be paid on the open market on the registration date by an arm's-length transferee, or

(iii) the VSI under section 5 that would be paid on the open market on the registration date by an arm's-length transferee.

PARTIE IV

ASSUJETTISSEMENT À LA TAXE ET PRÉLÈVEMENT

Assujettissement à la taxe

5.(1) La présente loi s'applique à tous les intérêts fonciers, et tout destinataire d'un transfert visant un intérêt foncier est assujetti à la taxe au moment où la demande d'enregistrement du transfert est faite conformément à la présente loi.

(2) Sauf dans les cas où s'applique une exemption prévue à la partie V, la taxe :

a) est imposée et prélevée sur un intérêt foncier au moment où est faite la demande d'enregistrement d'un transfert visant cet intérêt foncier;

b) doit être payée par le destinataire du transfert conformément à la présente loi.

(3) La personne qui est le destinataire d'un transfert est responsable du paiement de la taxe même si, selon le cas :

a) elle est aussi responsable du paiement des impôts ou taxes imposés en vertu des autres textes législatifs relatifs à l'imposition foncière de la Première Nation;

b) l'intérêt foncier acquis par un co-destinataire du transfert est exempté de la taxe en vertu de la présente loi.

(4) Dans les cas où un transfert comporte plus d'un (1) destinataire, les co-destinataires du transfert sont solidairement responsables de payer à la Première Nation la taxe imposée en vertu de la présente loi.

(5) Le paragraphe (4) ne s'applique pas au co-destinataire du transfert qui est exempté de la taxe en vertu de la présente loi.

(6) Les taxes sont dues et payables au titre de la présente loi malgré toute action engagée ou tout recours exercé par le contribuable relativement à ces taxes, notamment en ce qui concerne la cotisation de taxe, l'applicabilité d'une exemption ou d'un remboursement ou son assujettissement à la taxe.

Paiement de la taxe et production d'une déclaration

Modèle

destinataire du transfert doit :

a) payer la taxe calculée au taux prévu dans la présente loi;

b) produire une déclaration complète conformément à la présente loi, que le transfert soit ou non exempté de la taxe en vertu de la présente loi.

(2) Le bureau d'enregistrement refuse d'accepter la demande d'enregistrement d'un transfert si, selon le cas :

a) le destinataire du transfert ne paie pas la taxe exigible au moment de l'enregistrement;

b) le destinataire du transfert ne produit pas une déclaration complète;

c) l'administrateur ou le personnel du bureau d'enregistrement a des motifs raisonnables de croire que la déclaration est incomplète ou que le destinataire du transfert n'est pas admissible à une exemption demandée dans la déclaration.

(3) Le paiement des taxes doit être fait par chèque, mandat ou transfert électronique de fonds.

(4) Les paiements par chèque ou mandat doivent être établis à l'ordre de la Première Nation _____ et les paiements par transfert électronique doivent être faits selon les directives de l'administrateur.

(5) La Première Nation délivre un reçu au contribuable pour les taxes payées conformément à la présente loi.

Paiement de la taxe estimative

7.(1) Malgré l'article 6, lorsqu'il est impossible de déterminer, à la date d'enregistrement, le montant de la taxe exigible sur un transfert parce qu'il faut procéder à une évaluation ou obtenir d'autres renseignements pertinents pour établir la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert, l'administrateur peut, à la demande du destinataire du transfert :

a) d'une part, faire une estimation de la taxe exigible en se fondant sur les meilleurs renseignements à sa disposition à la date d'enregistrement;

b) d'autre part, autoriser le bureau d'enregistrement à accepter l'enregistrement du transfert dès que le destinataire du transfert paie le montant estimatif de taxe.

(2) Lorsque le destinataire du transfert a payé le montant estimatif de taxe visé au paragraphe (1), l'administrateur, sur réception des résultats de l'évaluation ou des autres renseignements pertinents, calcule le montant de la taxe exigible sur le transfert.

(3) Malgré le paragraphe (2), si le destinataire du transfert était tenu de fournir une évaluation ou d'autres renseignements pertinents et qu'il ne les a pas fournis pas dans le délai imparti, l'administrateur calcule la taxe exigible sur le transfert à la date d'enregistrement, en se fondant sur les meilleurs renseignements à sa disposition au moment de faire le calcul.

(4) Lorsqu'il fait le calcul de la taxe exigible aux termes des paragraphes (2) ou (3), l'administrateur délivre un avis de cotisation au destinataire du transfert et l'article 21 s'applique alors.

Taux de taxe

Version courante 2017-11- 03

en vigueur.]

8.(1) Le taux de la taxe prélevée en vertu de la présente loi est égal à :

a) un demi pour cent (0,5 %) de la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert qui n'excède pas cinquante-cinq mille dollars (55 000 $);

b) un pour cent (1 %) de la partie de la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert qui est supérieure à cinquante-cinq mille dollars (55 000 $) sans excéder deux cent cinquante mille dollars (250 000 $);

c) un et un demi pour cent (1,5 %) de la partie de la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert qui est supérieure à deux cent cinquante mille dollars (250 000 $) sans excéder quatre cent mille dollars (400 000 $);

d) deux pour cent (2 %) de la partie de la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert qui est supérieure à quatre cent mille dollars (400 000 $).

(2) En plus des taux prévus au paragraphe (1), si la valeur de la contrepartie versée pour le transfert est supérieure à 2 000 000 $ et que l'objet du transfert est un intérêt foncier qui comporte au moins une (1) et pas plus de deux (2) habitations unifamiliales, il est ajouté une taxe supplémentaire de un demi pour cent (0,5 %) sur la tranche de la valeur de la contrepartie qui est supérieure à 2 000 000 $.

(3) Si le destinataire d'un transfert :

a) demande l'enregistrement du transfert,

b) puis demande, dans les six (6) mois suivant la demande mentionnée à l'alinéa a), l'enregistrement d'un ou de plusieurs autres transferts visant le même intérêt foncier, la taxe exigible sur le transfert visé à l'alinéa b) est calculée en fonction de la valeur totale des contreparties versées pour les transferts visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert.

(4) Si :

a) le destinataire d'un transfert demande l'enregistrement du transfert,

b) et qu'un ou plusieurs membres de sa famille demandent, en tant que destinataires de transfert, au même moment que la demande visée à l'alinéa a) ou dans les six (6) mois suivant celle-ci, l'enregistrement d'un (1) ou de plusieurs transferts visant le même intérêt foncier dont l'auteur n'est pas la personne mentionnée à l'alinéa a), la taxe exigible est calculée en fonction de la valeur totale des contreparties versées pour les transferts visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert, et les destinataires de ceux-ci mentionnés aux alinéas a) et b) sont solidairement responsables du paiement de la taxe totale exigible.

Modèle

Version courante 2017-11- 03

(5) Si :

a) le destinataire d'un transfert qui est une personne morale – appelée « société destinataire du transfert » au présent paragraphe et au paragraphe (6) – demande l'enregistrement du transfert,

b) et qu'une ou plusieurs personnes morales associées à la société destinataire du transfert demandent, en tant que destinataires de transfert, au même moment que la demande visée à l'alinéa a) ou dans les six (6) mois suivant celle-ci, l'enregistrement d'un ou de plusieurs transferts visant le même intérêt foncier dont l'auteur n'est pas la société destinataire du transfert, la taxe exigible sur les transferts est calculée en fonction de la valeur totale des contreparties versées pour les transferts visés aux alinéas a) et b) comme si tous ces transferts constituaient un seul transfert, et les destinataires de ceux-ci mentionnés aux alinéas a) et b) sont solidairement responsables du paiement de la taxe totale exigible.

(6) Pour l'application du paragraphe (5), une personne morale est associée à la société destinataire du transfert si elles sont des sociétés associées au sens de l'article 256 de la Loi de l'impôt sur le revenu (Canada) à la date d'enregistrement du transfert visé à ce paragraphe.

(7) Malgré le paragraphe (1), il ne peut être prélevé sur un transfert aucune taxe d'un montant inférieur à _____ dollars (____ $).

Déclaration de taxe

9.(1) Une déclaration doit être datée et certifiée par :

a) chaque destinataire du transfert visé par la déclaration, ou le mandataire autorisé par écrit à produire la déclaration au nom du destinataire du transfert;

b) le procureur qui agit en cette qualité aux fins de l'opération, pour le compte du destinataire du transfert;

c) le président du conseil d'administration mandaté par la personne morale qui est le destinataire du transfert, ou le vice-président, le secrétaire, l'administrateur ou le trésorier mandaté par cette personne morale;

d) l'un ou l'autre de deux destinataires du transfert qui sont époux l'un de l'autre et qui sont tous deux destinataires du transfert, si le destinataire du transfert qui certifie la déclaration agit pour le compte de l'autre.

(2) La déclaration doit préciser que le déclarant a une connaissance directe des faits qui y sont énoncés et indiquer, le cas échéant, en quelle qualité et pour le compte de quel destinataire du transfert le déclarant certifie la déclaration.

Version courante 2017-11- 03

Tenue de dossiers

10. (1) Quiconque est tenu par la présente loi de produire une déclaration doit conserver dans sa résidence en Ontario ou son établissement principal en Ontario des documents, dossiers et comptes dont la forme et le contenu permettront de déterminer avec exactitude les taxes exigibles au titre de la présente loi.

(2) Les dossiers visés au paragraphe (1) doivent être conservés pendant un délai d'au moins sept (7) ans suivant la date d'enregistrement du transfert auquel ils se rapportent.

PARTIE V

Applicabilité des exemptions

11.(1) Le destinataire d'un transfert est exempté de la taxe sur le transfert au titre de la présente loi si :

a) d'une part, le transfert correspond à l'une des descriptions énoncées aux articles 12 et 13;

b) d'autre part, il présente une demande d'exemption avec sa déclaration et sa demande d'enregistrement du transfert au bureau d'enregistrement.

(2) La demande d'exemption visée au présent article doit :

a) être en la forme exigée par l'administrateur;

b) contenir suffisamment de renseignements pour permettre à l'administrateur de confirmer que le transfert ou le destinataire de celui-ci, selon le cas, est admissible à l'exemption demandée;

c) comporter le consentement du destinataire du transfert à ce que l'administrateur fasse les vérifications qu'il estime nécessaires pour confirmer l'admissibilité à l'exemption.

Exemptions de taxe

12.(1) Le destinataire d'un transfert est exempté de la taxe sur le transfert au titre de la présente loi s'il s'agit, selon le cas :

a) d'un transfert par son auteur en faveur du destinataire qui est son époux ou ex-époux et qu'au moins l'une des conditions suivantes est remplie :

(i) la seule contrepartie versée pour le transfert à part l'affection naturelle est la prise en charge de tout grèvement frappant l'intérêt foncier,

(ii) le transfert est conforme aux conditions d'un accord écrit par lequel les parties ont convenu de vivre séparées,

(iii) le transfert est conforme aux exigences d'une ordonnance ou d'un jugement rendu par un tribunal compétent en vertu d'un texte législatif provincial, fédéral ou de la Première Nation

régissant le partage des biens matrimoniaux ou familiaux;

b) d'un transfert, d'un versement en fiducie ou d'une dévolution en faveur d'une personne à la charge de l'auteur du transfert, faits conformément à une ordonnance rendue par un tribunal compétent en vertu d'un texte législatif provincial, fédéral ou de la Première Nation régissant le partage des biens matrimoniaux ou familiaux;

c) du transfert d'un bail portant sur un intérêt foncier en vue du lotissement, de l'aménagement et de la revente d'au moins cinq (5) parcelles de la terre, pourvu que le destinataire du transfert achève le lotissement de manière à créer au moins cinq (5) parcelles dans les _____ (__) ans suivant la date d'enregistrement. [Note à la Première Nation : Le nombre d'années ne peut dépasser cinq.]

[Note à la Première Nation : L'exemption prévue à l'alinéa d) vise à exempter de la taxe sur les transferts fonciers tous les baux d'une durée de 50 ans ou moins, sur le modèle de l'exemption accordée en Ontario. Avant d'inclure cette exemption, la Première Nation devrait examiner la nature des intérêts de tenure à bail sur ses terres et évaluer l'incidence qu'une telle exemption pourrait avoir sur son régime de taxe sur les transferts fonciers. Si elle choisit d'inclure cette exemption, la Première Nation voudra peut-être ajouter le libellé du paragraphe (2) pour empêcher les destinataires de transferts « d'empiler » les baux. Si elle n'inclut pas cette exemption, la Première Nation devrait supprimer l'alinéa 6(1)a) de l'annexe I, puisque la taxe aura déjà été payée sur la durée initiale de moins de 50 ans et, par conséquent, ne doit pas être considérée de nouveau pour une convention de modification du bail.]

d) du transfert d'un bail – autre qu'une convention de modification du bail – dont la durée qui reste à la date d'enregistrement ne peut dépasser cinquante (50) ans, compte tenu des reconductions ou des prorogations stipulées dans le bail ou dans une option de location distincte ou tout autre document conclu dans le cadre de l'arrangement relatif au bail (que le locataire et le bénéficiaire de l'option ou la personne nommée dans le document soient ou non les mêmes personnes).

(2) Malgré l'alinéa (1)d), l'exemption de taxe prévue à cet alinéa ne s'applique pas à un transfert dans le cas suivant :

a) deux (2) ou plusieurs transferts sont faits à l'égard du même intérêt foncier;

b) les demandes d'enregistrement des transferts sont présentées au bureau d'enregistrement à au plus six (6) mois d'intervalle;

c) chacun des transferts prévoit une période durant laquelle une personne se voit accorder le droit d'occuper l'intérêt foncier aux termes d'un bail;

d) les périodes visées à l'alinéa c) excèdent cinquante (50) ans au total.

Exemptions additionnelles

13.(1) Est exempté de la taxe sur un transfert au titre de la présente loi le destinataire du transfert qui est, selon le cas :

a) la Première Nation en tant qu'unique destinataire du transfert,

b) une société de la Première Nation en tant qu'unique destinataire du transfert,

c) un membre ou des membres lorsque :

(i) soit le membre est l'unique destinataire du transfert,

(ii) soit tous les destinataires du transfert sont des membres,

(iii) soit le membre et son époux sont les seuls destinataires du transfert, pourvu que le destinataire du transfert détienne l'intérêt foncier directement et non à titre de fiduciaire;

d) un fiduciaire qui détiendra l'intérêt foncier exclusivement au profit d'un (1) ou de plusieurs membres et de nulle autre personne.

(2) Sous réserve du paragraphe (3), lorsqu'une exemption est accordée en vertu des alinéas (1)b), c) ou d), la Première Nation :

a) verse dans le compte de recettes locales une somme équivalente aux taxes qui auraient été payables par la personne physique ou morale bénéficiant de l'exemption si celle-ci n'avait pas été applicable;

a) elle retire la demande d'enregistrement,

b) la demande d'enregistrement est rejetée et n'est pas soumise à nouveau.

(3) Lorsque des intérêts sont payables sur un remboursement de taxes au titre de la présente loi, l'administrateur calcule ces intérêts de la façon suivante :

a) l'intérêt commence à courir à la date à laquelle les taxes ont initialement été payées à la Première Nation;

b) le taux d'intérêt applicable à chaque période successive de trois (3) mois, commençant le 1er janvier, le 1er avril, le 1er juillet et le 1er octobre de chaque année, est le taux inférieur de deux pour cent (2 %) au taux préférentiel de la banque principale de la Première Nation en vigueur le 15e jour du mois précédant la période de trois (3) mois;

c) l'intérêt n'est pas composé;

d) l'intérêt cesse de courir le jour où le paiement de la somme due est remis ou envoyé par la poste à la personne à qui elle est destinée ou lui est effectivement versé.

18.(1) Lorsqu'une personne a payé un montant à titre de taxe aux termes de la présente loi alors qu'elle n'avait pas l'obligation légale de payer cette taxe, elle peut demander à l'administrateur un remboursement du montant payé.

(5) À titre de restriction au paragraphe (4), l'administrateur ne peut accorder le remboursement d'un montant payé plus de quatre (4) ans avant la date de présentation de la demande de remboursement visée à l'alinéa (2)a). [Note à la Première Nation: Ce délai doit être d'au moins deux ans. En Ontario, le délai est fixé à quatre ans.]

(6) S'il détermine qu'un remboursement ne peut être accordé en vertu du présent article, l'administrateur en donne un avis écrit au destinataire du transfert, en y indiquant les motifs à l'appui, et l'avis est réputé constituer un avis de cotisation afin de permettre au contribuable de présenter une demande de réexamen au titre de la présente loi.

[Note à la Première Nation : L'article 19 prévoit le versement d'un remboursement aux acheteurs d'une première maison, ce qui est similaire au programme de remboursements offert en Ontario. Les Premières Nations qui ne souhaitent pas offrir un tel remboursement doivent supprimer cet article

(3) Si le particulier qui serait autrement admissible à un remboursement visé au paragraphe (2) ne l'est pas du fait qu'il n'est pas un acheteur au sens du paragraphe (1) parce qu'il n'est pas citoyen canadien ou résident permanent du Canada à la date d'enregistrement, il est admissible au remboursement s'il devient citoyen canadien ou résident permanent du Canada dans les dix-huit (18) mois suivant la date d'enregistrement du transfert.

(2) Lorsque l'administrateur fait une détermination aux termes du paragraphe (1), il délivre à la personne un avis de cotisation qui précise les raisons pour lesquelles elle n'avait pas droit au remboursement, ou n'avait droit qu'à un montant inférieur, et indique le montant de taxe à payer, y compris les intérêts et les pénalités si l'article 28 s'applique.

(6) La mainlevée du privilège par l'administrateur constitue la preuve du paiement des taxes relatives à l'intérêt foncier.

(7) Une erreur technique ou une omission commise lors de la création du privilège ou de son inscription sur la liste des privilèges n'entraîne pas la perte ou la diminution du privilège.

c) « valeur imposable » s'entend de la valeur imposable la plus récente d'un intérêt foncier, déterminée conformément au texte législatif sur l'évaluation foncière de la Première Nation pris en vertu du sous-alinéa 5(1)a)(i) de la Loi.

Calcul de la durée d'un bail et d'un domaine viager

2.(1) Sous réserve de l'article 6 et des paragraphes (2), (3) et (5), la durée d'un bail est la somme des éléments suivants :

a) le nombre d'années pour lesquelles le destinataire d'un transfert a le droit d'occuper l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

b) le nombre maximum d'années non comptées en application de l'alinéa a) durant lesquelles le destinataire du transfert, par l'exercice de droits ou d'options de renouveler ou de prolonger le bail, peut occuper l'intérêt foncier donné à bail.

(2) Sous réserve du paragraphe (3), la durée d'un bail est la partie non écoulée de la durée calculée conformément au paragraphe (1) à la date d'enregistrement.

(3) Si le bail vise une multipropriété ou un régime de propriété partagée, la durée du bail est calculée en additionnant le nombre d'années durant lesquelles le destinataire du transfert peut, pour toute partie d'une année, occuper l'intérêt foncier.

(4) Sous réserve du paragraphe (5), la durée d'un domaine viager est le nombre d'années d'espérance de vie, fondé sur le tableau 3, qu'il reste au détenteur du domaine viager à la date d'enregistrement de celui-ci au bureau d'enregistrement.

(5) La durée d'un bail ou d'un domaine viager qui serait autrement exprimée comme une fraction d'année ou un nombre d'années plus une fraction d'année est arrondie au nombre entier supérieur.

Juste valeur marchande des baux prépayés

Version courante 2017-11- 03

a) d'une part, le loyer prévu au bail n'est soumis à aucun rajustement ni révision et a été payé pour la durée du bail avant la date d'enregistrement ou sera payé dans un délai d'un (1) an suivant cette date;

b) d'autre part, le bailleur et le destinataire du transfert n'ont pas de lien de dépendance entre eux.

(2) Dans le cas où le bailleur a un lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert, la juste valeur marchande est égale au montant qui aurait été payé si l'intérêt foncier à bail avait été vendu à la date d'enregistrement sur le marché libre par un vendeur consentant à un acheteur consentant, libre de toute fiducie et non grevé d'un jugement ordonnant un paiement en espèces ou d'une hypothèque ou autre instrument financier garantissant le paiement d'une somme ou l'exécution d'une obligation.

Juste valeur marchande des baux d'une durée maximale de 30 ans

4.(1) La juste valeur marchande d'un transfert visant un bail :

a) auquel l'article 3 ne s'applique pas,

b) dont la durée n'excède pas trente (30) ans,

c) dont le bailleur n'a pas de lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert,

est égale, sous réserve du choix exercé en vertu du paragraphe (2), au montant calculé selon la formule suivante :

CF + (PAL x FVA)

où :

CF représente la contrepartie forfaitaire payée par le destinataire du transfert pour l'octroi ou le transfert du bail, y compris les améliorations situées sur le bien foncier à bail;

PAL représente le paiement annuel de loyer à verser la dernière année pour laquelle des loyers sont établis aux termes du bail;

FVA représente le facteur de valeur actualisée prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 2 en regard du nombre d'années indiqué à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail.

(2) Le destinataire du transfert peut choisir de calculer la juste valeur marchande du bail conformément à l'article 5.

Juste valeur marchande des autres baux

où :

VFS représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt en fief simple, y compris les améliorations se trouvant sur l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail.

(2) Pour l'application du paragraphe (1), lorsqu'une partie des améliorations sur une parcelle de terre sont louées, la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt foncier donné à bail est calculée selon la formule suivante :

Version courante 2017-11- 03

$$\frac{VFS \times P \times SLTIB}{SLT}$$

où :

VFS représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt en fief simple, y compris les améliorations, où est situé l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du bail;

SLTIB représente la superficie louable totale de l'intérêt foncier donné à bail;

SLT représente la superficie louable totale des améliorations se trouvant sur les terres où est situé l'intérêt foncier donné à bail.

(3) La VFS visée aux paragraphes (1) et (2) correspond à la valeur imposable de l'intérêt foncier à bail, si cette donnée est disponible.

(4) Si la valeur imposable n'est pas disponible, l'administrateur peut :

a) soit calculer la VFS en utilisant les meilleures données disponibles, y compris notamment la valeur imposable ou les données d'évaluation de biens fonciers comparables;

b) soit exiger du destinataire du transfert qu'il fournisse à ses frais une évaluation de la VFS.

(5) Si l'administrateur calcule la VFS en application de l'alinéa (4)a), le destinataire du transfert peut, dans les dix (10) jours après que l'administrateur lui a donné avis de la VFS ainsi calculée, choisir de fournir une évaluation de la VFS à ses frais, auquel cas il dispose d'un délai supplémentaire de vingt et un (21) jours ou de tout autre délai qu'accepte l'administrateur.

(6) Si le destinataire du transfert fournit l'évaluation visée au paragraphe (5), l'administrateur est tenu d'utiliser la VFS fondée sur cette évaluation pour l'application du présent article.

a) la durée du bail avant la prolongation accordée par la convention de modification du bail, calculée conformément au paragraphe 2(1) sans égard au paragraphe 2(2) à compter de la date de signature initiale de la convention de bail; [Note à la Première Nation : Si l'exemption prévue à l'alinéa 12(1)d) n'est pas incluse, il faudrait supprimer le présent alinéa.]

b) le nombre d'années, selon le paragraphe 2(5), dont le bail est prolongé grâce à la convention de modification du bail.

(3) Sous réserve du paragraphe (5), si la durée de la convention de modification du bail est de cent (100) ou moins, la juste valeur marchande de celle-ci est calculée selon la formule suivante :

$$CF + (PAL \times FVA)$$

Version courante 2017-11- 03

où :

CF représente la contrepartie forfaitaire payée par le destinataire du transfert pour la modification du bail, y compris les améliorations situées sur le bien foncier à bail;

PAL représente le paiement annuel du loyer à verser la dernière année pour laquelle des loyers sont établis aux termes du bail tel que prolongé par la convention de modification du bail;

FVA représente le facteur de valeur actualisée prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 2 en regard du nombre d'années indiqué à la colonne 1 qui correspond au nombre d'années applicable selon l'alinéa (1)b).

(4) Si la durée de la convention de modification du bail dépasse cent (100) ans, l'article 5 s'applique aux fins du calcul de la juste valeur marchande de celle-ci, sauf que l'élément « P » est égal au pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond au nombre d'années applicable selon l'alinéa (1)b).

(5) Le destinataire du transfert peut choisir de calculer la juste valeur marchande du bail conformément à l'article 5 avec la modification prévue au paragraphe (4).

Juste valeur marchande des domaines viagers

7. La juste valeur marchande d'un domaine viager sur un bail est le montant calculé selon la formule suivante :

où :

VIB représente la juste valeur marchande de l'intérêt foncier à bail, calculée :

a) comme si le domaine viager n'existait pas;

b) conformément aux articles 3, 4 ou 5, selon le cas;

P représente le pourcentage prévu à la colonne 2 du tableau 1 en regard de la période indiquée à la colonne 1 qui correspond à la durée du domaine viager.

Transferts avec lien de dépendance

8. Lorsque l'auteur d'un transfert a un lien de dépendance avec le destinataire du transfert, l'administrateur peut :

a) soit utiliser la valeur imposable;

b) soit obliger le destinataire du transfert à fournir à ses frais avec sa déclaration, le cas échéant, une évaluation de l'un ou l'autre des éléments suivants :

(i) le montant visé au paragraphe 3(2),

(ii) le PAL visé aux articles 4 ou 6 qui serait payé sur le marché libre à la date d'enregistrement par un destinataire de transfert sans lien de dépendance,

(iii) la VFS visée à l'article 5 qui serait payée sur le marché libre à la date d'enregistrement par un destinataire de transfert sans lien de dépendance.

"reserve fund" means a reserve fund established by the First Nation; and "taxpayer" means a person liable for the payment of taxes to a First Nation.

Except as otherwise provided in this policy, words and expressions used in this Policy have the same meaning as in the Act.

PART VII
POLICY

1.0 Restrictions on Expenditures

1.1 The By-law must provide for local revenues to be expended only on local services and, without limitation, must not provide for

(a) per capita distributions; or

(b) expenditure relating to any commercial, for-profit, enterprise undertaken by or on behalf of the First Nation, including without limitation by a corporation in which shares are held by or for the benefit of the First Nation.

1.2 Despite paragraph 1.1(b), the By-law may provide for an expenditure to a corporation referred to in that paragraph that is a grant under a granting program established by the First Nation.

2.0 Annual Expenditure By-laws

2.1 The annual expenditure By-law must include, as a schedule the First Nation's annual budget for the current budget year, using the categories of expenditures set out in the Schedule.

2.2 The annual budget must include a contingency amount for the provision of local services as part of each budget, which amount

(a) must not exceed ten percent (10%) of the total local revenues in the current year, excluding any amounts transferred from local revenues into reserve funds in that year; and

(b) must be at least one percent (1%) of the total local revenues in the current year, excluding any amounts transferred from local revenues into reserve funds in that year.

2.3 The annual budget must set out

(a) the amounts payable by the First Nation in the budget period under each service agreement between the First Nation and a third-party service provider;

(b) the amounts to be paid by the First Nation in the budget period under each granting program established by the First Nation;

(c) in an appendix, each reserve fund and its opening balance, all transfers in and out of the reserve fund, and its closing balance.

3.0 Contingency Amounts

The By-law must provide that contingency amounts may be expended as necessary in any of the categories of expenditures set out in the By-law.

4.0 Reserve Funds

Where a First Nation wishes to transfer money into or out of a reserve fund, the By-law must

(a) establish the reserve fund unless it has been previously established in an expenditure By-law; and

(b) authorize all payments into a reserve fund and all expenditures from a reserve fund.

5.0 Establishing a Reserve Fund

Where a First Nation wishes to establish a reserve fund, the reserve fund must

(a) be established in an expenditure By-law and include a statement respecting the purposes of the reserve fund; and

(b) comply with the requirements in the First Nation's taxation By-law.

6.0 Reserve Fund Purposes

The By-law may establish reserve funds only for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) capital infrastructure replacement, provided its purposes are supported by a capital development plan;

(b) capital infrastructure improvement, provided its purposes are supported by a capital development plan;

(c) contingency reserves, provided it meets the requirements in section 7; and

(d) other non-capital purposes, provided its purposes are supported by a capital development plan, contingent liability plan, land management plan, long-term economic plan or financial plan.

7.0 Contingency Reserve Funds

7.1 Where the By-law establishes a contingency reserve fund, the reserve fund must be established only for the purposes of funding unforeseen operating expenditures and stabilizing the temporary impacts of cyclical local revenue decreases.

7.2 Where a First Nation has established a contingency reserve fund, the By-law may provide for a transfer of local revenues into that reserve fund, provided that

(a) the amount transferred must not exceed ten percent (10%) of the total local revenues in the current budget year; and

(b) the balance in the reserve fund must not at any time exceed the amount that is fifty percent (50%) of the current year's local revenues.

7.3 Despite subsection 7.2, where a First Nation's contingency reserve fund has a balance that exceeds the amount that is fifty percent (50%) of the current year's local revenues, the First Nation's annual expenditure By-law must

(a) not authorize a transfer of money into the reserve fund; and

(b) authorize a transfer of money from the reserve fund into the local revenue account, or into another reserve fund, in an amount sufficient to reduce the balance in the contingency reserve fund to not more than fifty percent (50%) of the current year's local revenues.

8.0 Additional Requirements

8.1 The By-law must not authorize an expenditure from a reserve fund unless the expenditure is

(a) for the purpose for which the reserve fund was established;

(b) a transfer of money to another reserve fund or account as provided in subsection 8.2 or 8.3; or

(c) to borrow money from a reserve fund as provided in subsection 8.4.

8.2 If a First Nation wishes to authorize a transfer of money from a capital purpose reserve fund to another reserve fund or account, the By-law must

(a) only authorize a transfer where all projects for which the reserve fund was established have been completed; and

(b) show the transfer out from the originating reserve fund and the transfer into the receiving reserve fund or account.

8.3 If a First Nation wishes to authorize a transfer of money from a non-capital purpose reserve fund to another reserve fund or account, the By-law must show the transfer out from the originating reserve fund and as the transfer into the receiving reserve fund or account.

8.4 If a First Nation wishes to authorize the borrowing of money from a reserve fund, the By-law must

(a) authorize borrowing from a reserve fund only where the money is not immediately required for the purpose of the reserve fund, and on condition that the First Nation repay the amount borrowed plus interest on that amount at a rate that is at or above the prime lending rate set from time to time by the principal banker to the First Nation; and

(b) show the borrowing as a transfer out from the reserve fund and as a transfer into that year's local revenues.

PARTIE VII
POLITIQUE

1.0 Restrictions applicables aux dépenses

1.1 Le règlement administratif doit préciser que les recettes locales ne peuvent être dépensées que pour les services locaux et qu'elles ne peuvent, sans réserve, prévoir :

a) des répartitions par habitant;

b) l'engagement de dépenses liées à des activités commerciales à but lucratif qui sont exercées par la première nation ou en son nom, notamment par une société dont des actions sont détenues par la première nation ou pour son compte.

1.2 Malgré l'alinéa 1.1b), le règlement administratif peut prévoir l'engagement d'une dépense en faveur d'une société visée à cet alinéa qui constitue une subvention accordée dans le cadre d'un programme de subventions établi par la première nation.

2.0 Règlements administratifs annuels sur les dépenses

2.1 Le règlement administratif annuel sur les dépenses doit contenir en annexe le budget annuel de la première nation pour l'exercice budgétaire en cours, réparti selon les catégories de dépenses établies à l'annexe.

2.2 Le budget annuel doit prévoir un montant pour éventualités aux fins de la prestation des services locaux, lequel montant :

a) d'une part, ne peut excéder dix pour cent (10 %) du total des recettes locales pour l'exercice en cours, exclusion faite des montants de celles-ci transférés dans les fonds de réserve au cours de cet exercice;

b) d'autre part, doit correspondre à au moins un pour cent (1 %) du total des recettes locales pour l'exercice en cours, exclusion faite des montants de celles-ci transférés dans les fonds de réserve au cours de cet exercice.

2.3 Le budget annuel doit prévoir :

a) les montants à payer par la première nation pendant l'exercice budgétaire dans le cadre de chaque entente de services conclue entre elle et un tiers fournisseur de services;

b) les montants à payer par la première nation pendant l'exercice budgétaire dans le cadre de chaque programme de subventions établi par elle;

c) en appendice, chaque fonds de réserve et son solde d'ouverture, tous les transferts en provenance et à destination du fonds de réserve ainsi que son solde de clôture.

3.0 Montants pour éventualités

Le règlement administratif doit préciser que les montants pour éventualités peuvent être dépensés, selon les besoins, dans les catégories de dépenses qui y sont prévues.

4.0 Fonds de réserve

Lorsqu'une première nation souhaite transférer des sommes à un fonds de réserve ou en retirer de ce fonds, le règlement administratif doit :

a) constituer le fonds de réserve, à moins qu'il n'ait déjà été constitué par un règlement administratif sur les dépenses;

b) autoriser tous les versements à effectuer au fonds de réserve et toutes les dépenses à faire sur ce fonds.

5.0 Constitution d'un fonds de réserve

Lorsqu'une première nation souhaite constituer un fonds de réserve, celui-ci doit :

a) être constitué par un règlement administratif sur les dépenses et faire mention des fins auxquelles il est destiné;

b) satisfaire aux exigences du règlement administratif sur l'imposition foncière de la première nation.

6.0 Fins des fonds de réserve

Le règlement administratif ne peut constituer un fonds de réserve qu'à l'une ou plusieurs des fins suivantes :

a) le remplacement des infrastructures, pourvu que cela soit appuyé par un plan de développement des infrastructures;

b) l'amélioration des infrastructures, pourvu que cela soit appuyé par un plan de développement des infrastructures;

c) les réserves pour éventualités, pourvu que les exigences de l'article 7 soient respectées;

d) d'autres fins non destinées aux immobilisations, pourvu que cela soit appuyé par un plan de développement des infrastructures, un plan de passif éventuel, un plan de gestion foncière, un plan économique à long terme ou un plan financier.

7.0 Fonds de réserve pour éventualités

7.1 Lorsque le règlement administratif constitue un fonds de réserve pour éventualités, ce fonds de réserve ne peut servir qu'à financer les dépenses d'exploitation imprévues et à stabiliser les répercussions temporaires des baisses cycliques de recettes locales.

7.2 Si la première nation a constitué un fonds de réserve pour éventualités, le règlement administratif peut prévoir le transfert de recettes locales vers ce fonds de réserve, pourvu que les conditions suivantes soient respectées :

a) seuls les montants pour éventualités non dépensés de l'exercice budgétaire précédent peuvent être transférés dans le fonds de réserve;

b) le montant du transfert ne peut excéder dix pour cent (10 %) du total des recettes locales pour l'exercice budgétaire en cours;

c) le solde du fonds de réserve ne peut à aucun moment dépasser cinquante pour cent (50 %) des recettes locales pour l'exercice budgétaire en cours.

7.3 Malgré le paragraphe 7.2, lorsque le fonds de réserve pour éventualités de la première nation a un solde qui dépasse cinquante pour cent (50 %) des recettes locales pour l'exercice en cours, son règlement administratif annuel sur les dépenses :

a) ne peut autoriser aucun transfert vers ce fonds de réserve;

b) doit autoriser le transfert, à partir de ce fonds de réserve vers le compte de recettes locales ou un autre fonds de réserve, d'un montant suffisant pour réduire le solde du fonds de réserve pour éventualités à un montant ne dépassant pas cinquante pour cent (50 %) des recettes locales pour l'exercice en cours.

8.0 Exigences supplémentaires

8.1 Le règlement administratif ne peut autoriser des dépenses sur un fonds de réserve que si ces dépenses :

a) soit sont destinées aux fins auxquelles le fonds de réserve a été constitué;

b) soit consistent en des transferts de sommes à un autre fonds de réserve ou à un compte comme le prévoient les paragraphes 8.2 ou 8.3;

c) soit sont des emprunts sur le fonds de réserve comme le prévoit le paragraphe 8.4.

8.2 Si une première nation souhaite autoriser le transfert de sommes d'un fonds de réserve pour immobilisations à un autre fonds de réserve ou à un compte, le règlement administratif doit :

a) autoriser le transfert seulement lorsque tous les projets pour lesquels a été constitué le fonds de réserve ont été achevés;

b) faire état du transfert depuis le fonds de réserve de provenance et du transfert vers le fonds de réserve ou le compte de destination.

8.3 Si une première nation souhaite autoriser le transfert de sommes d'un fonds de réserve non destiné aux immobilisations à un autre fonds de réserve ou à un compte, le règlement administratif doit faire état du transfert depuis le fonds de réserve en question et du transfert vers le fonds de réserve ou le compte de destination.

8.4 Si une première nation souhaite autoriser des emprunts sur un fonds de réserve, le règlement administratif doit :

a) autoriser les emprunts sur le fonds de réserve seulement dans les cas où les sommes en question ne sont pas immédiatement nécessaires aux fins de ce fonds et à la condition que la première nation rembourse les sommes empruntées plus les intérêts sur celles-ci à un taux égal ou supérieur au taux préférentiel fixé périodiquement par la banque principale de la première nation;

b) faire état des emprunts comme un transfert depuis le fonds de réserve et un transfert vers les recettes locales de l'exercice en cours.

PART VII
POLICY

1. Appointment of Tax Administrator

1.1 The by-law must provide for the appointment by Council, by resolution, of a tax administrator to oversee the administration and enforcement of the by-law.
1.2 The by-law must provide that the tax administrator is responsible for the day-to-day management of the First Nation's local revenue account.

2. Tax Liability

2.1 The by-law must provide that

(a) it applies to all interests in land in the reserve; and

(b) all interests in land in the reserve are subject to taxation unless exempted from taxation in accordance with the by-law.

2.2 The by-law must provide that taxes must be levied on each taxable property by applying the applicable tax rate against the assessed value of the taxable property, except as provided in subsection 2.3

2.3 If a First Nation wishes to establish a minimum amount of tax to be levied on taxable property in a property class, the by-law must provide that the First Nation may set a minimum tax in one or more property classes in its annual rates by-law each year.

3. Tax Districts

3.1 Where a First Nation wishes to have one (1) or more tax districts, the by-law must

(a) establish each tax district; and

(b) describe the reserves and parts of reserves included in each district, using either a map or written description that clearly defines the geographical boundaries of the tax district.

3.2 A First Nation may only establish a tax district where necessary to create a fair taxation regime because the First Nation

(a) has multiple reserves and one (1) or more of the reserves or parts of reserves have differing levels of servicing requirements or different reference jurisdictions; or

(b) has a single reserve and one or more parts of the reserve has differing levels of servicing requirements or different reference jurisdictions.

4. Transition Period for Certain Taxing First Nations

4.1 Where a First Nation is implementing taxation for the first time and, in the year prior to making the by-law,

(a) the interests in land that will be subject to taxation under the by-law were not subject to provincial taxation jurisdiction, and

(b) the First Nation charged a fee for the provision of local services to holders of interests in land in all or certain property classes, the by-law must include requirements for establishing tax rates during the transition period for those property classes that were subject to the fee referenced in paragraph (b), which requirements must comply with subsections 4.2 and 4.3.

4.2 Where subsection 4.1 applies to a First Nation, the by-law must require the First Nation to establish tax rates in each year of the transition period that

(a) are based on annual budgeting for the provision of local services to taxpayers; or

(b) will move incrementally towards establishing tax rates that are identical to the tax rates set by the reference jurisdiction.

4.3 Where a First Nation's by-law

(a) applies paragraph 4.2(a), the by-law must include a list of the services to be provided, the estimated costs of the services, and the anticipated tax rates in each applicable property class in each year of the transition period; or

(b) applies paragraph 4.2(b), the by-law must include a list of the services to be provided and the anticipated tax rates in each applicable property class in each year of the transition period.

5. Exemptions from Taxation

5.1 Where a First Nation wishes to provide for exemptions from property taxation under a by-law, those exemptions must be set out in the by-law.

(a) exemptions for interests in land held or occupied by members of the First Nation;

(b) exemptions for interests in land held or occupied by the First Nation or corporations in which at least a majority of the shares are held in trust for the benefit of the First Nation or all of the members of the First Nation; or

6.Grants and Tax Abatement

6.1 Where a by-law provides for a granting program, the by-law must

(a) set out the objectives of the program, which must relate to a community purpose or goal;

(b) set out the qualifying criteria for the program;

(c) provide that the grant

(i) may be given only to a holder of property that is taxable in the current taxation year,

(ii) must be in an amount equal to or less than the taxes payable on the property in the current taxation year, less any other grants, abatements or offsets, and

(iii) must be used only for the purposes of paying the taxes owing on the property in the current taxation year; and

(d) provide that Council will in each taxation year determine all grants that will be given and authorize those grants in an expenditure by-law.

Tax By-law Policy [Amended June 28, 2017]

6.2 The by-law may provide for a form of tax abatement only where it is the same type and the same amount or percentage amount of abatement that is provided by the Province.

6.3 Where a by-law provides for tax abatement, the qualifying requirements must be set out in the by-law, and the amount of abatements given must be shown annually in the annual expenditure by-law.

7. Reserve Funds

7.1 If a First Nation wishes to establish a reserve fund,

(a) the by-law must include the provisions set out in this section; and

(b) each reserve fund must be established in an expenditure by-law.

7.2 The by-law must include the following provisions respecting the use of reserve funds:

Rates By-law Policy [Amended June 28, 2017]

PART VII
POLICY

1. Establishing Tax Rates

1.1 The By-law must establish for each property class a tax rate as

(a) a rate for each dollar ($1) of assessed value;

(b) a rate for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value; or

(c) a mill rate for each one thousand dollars ($1000) of assessed value.

1.2 As an exception to subsection 1.1, a By-law may establish a tax rate for a property class on a different basis where the First Nation's reference jurisdiction establishes a tax rate on a different basis within the same property class.

2. Application of Tax Rates Within a Property Class

2.1 The By-law must provide for the equal application of tax rates within a property class, except as provided in subsection 2.2.

2.2 The By-law may establish multiple tax rates within a property class where multiple tax rates are established in the First Nation's reference jurisdiction, provided the By-law

(a) establishes the same number of tax rates within each property class, and

(b) uses the same criteria for the application of those tax rates within each property class, as are used in the reference jurisdiction.

3. Tax Districts and Multiple Reference Jurisdictions

3.1 Where a First Nation has established one (1) or more tax districts,

(a) the First Nation may establish a tax rate for each property class in each tax district; and

(b) the requirements in the Rates By-law Policy respecting setting tax rates must be interpreted to apply separately within each tax district.

3.2 Where a First Nation has multiple reserves and has more than one (1) reference jurisdiction in respect of its reserves, the By-law may establish different tax rates for different reserves, provided that those reserves with the same reference jurisdiction must have the same tax rate in each property class.

4. Minimum Tax Limit

Where the By-law establishes a minimum amount of tax to be levied on properties within a property class, the amount of the minimum tax must not exceed one hundred dollars ($100), except as provided in section 4.

5. Exceptions to Minimum Tax Limit

5.1 The By-law may establish a minimum tax in an amount greater than one hundred dollars ($100) where required to create a fair taxation regime because of one or more of the following circumstances:

(a) the First Nation wishes to harmonize with minimum tax amounts established in the Province or the reference jurisdiction; and

(b) the First Nation’s costs of providing services to properties with lower assessed values exceeds one hundred dollars ($100).

5.2 As an exception to subsection 5.1, where a First Nation has included transition provisions in its taxation by-law in accordance with section 3.4 of the Property Taxation By-law Policy, in each year of the transition period the By-law must establish a minimum tax that is equal to the service fee charged by the First Nation in the year prior to its first taxation year.

6. Rate Setting in First Taxation Year

6.1 Where a First Nation is exercising property taxation powers for the first time, the First Nation must apply the same assessment practices as the former taxing authority or the reference jurisdiction, as the case may be, and its By-law must

(a) establish the same tax rates established by the former taxing authority in the current year; or

(b) where there is no former taxing authority, establish the same tax rates as the reference jurisdiction in the current year.

6.2 As an exception to subsection 6.1, where a First Nation has included transition provisions in its taxation by-law in accordance with section 3.4 of the Property Taxation By-law Policy, in each year of the transition period the By-law must establish tax rates for the applicable property classes that are consistent with those transition provisions.

7. Rate Setting in Subsequent Years

7.1 In the second and all subsequent years that a First Nation exercises property taxation powers, the By-law must establish tax rates based on the First Nation's budget for the expenditure of local revenues that
(a) when applied, result in an average tax bill for each property class that has not increased from the previous year by more than
(i) the annual rate of national inflation from the previous year, or
(ii) the average tax bill increase for each property class in the reference jurisdiction from the previous year; or
(b) are identical to the tax rates established in the reference jurisdiction in the current year and the immediately preceding year, including by establishing the same number of tax rates where the reference jurisdiction establishes multiple tax rates within a property class.
7.2 As an exception to subsection 7.1, where a First Nation has included transition provisions in its taxation by-law in accordance with section 3.4 of the Property Taxation By-law Policy, in each year of the transition period the By-law must establish tax rates for the applicable property classes that are consistent with those transition provisions.
7.3 For the purposes of paragraph 7.1(a), where
(a) a representative taxpayer is used to determine the average tax bill, that taxpayer must have been a taxpayer in the previous and must be a taxpayer in the current year;
(b) the representative taxpayer holds property that has experienced a change in assessed value attributable to new construction or to the addition of lands to the property, that change in assessed value must be excluded when determining the average tax bill increase; and
(c) the mean of the tax bills of all taxpayers is used to determine the average tax bill, any changes in assessed values to properties in that property class that are attributable to new construction or to the addition of lands to properties, must be excluded when determining the average tax bill increase.
7.4 For the purposes of paragraph 7.1(a), where the assessed value of a property is determined using a rate set by regulation,
(a) that property may be excluded when determining the average tax bill increase in a property class; or
(b) the average tax bill may be calculated by excluding any increases or decreases in the assessed value of that property from the previous year to the current year.

7.5 In order to meet the requirements in subparagraph 7.1(a)(ii) or paragraph 7.1(b), the First Nation must obtain and provide to the Commission all required information from the reference jurisdiction, to the satisfaction of the Commission.
7.6 Where a By-law establishes tax rates as provided in paragraph 7.1(b), the First Nation must use assessment practices that are identical to the reference jurisdiction in the current year and the immediately preceding year.

8. Justifications for Additional Rate Increases

8.1 Where a By-law establishes a tax rate that does not meet the criteria set out in subsection 7.1, the First Nation may provide justification of the rate for Commission consideration, on one (1) or more of the following bases:
(a) the First Nation's costs of providing local services, such as water, sewer, waste collection, fire protection and roads has increased significantly from the previous year;
(b) the rate is consistent with the First Nation's reference jurisdiction transition plan; or
(c) the taxpayers in the affected property class support the proposed rate.
8.2 Where subsection 7.2 applies and a By-law establishes a tax rate that is not consistent with the transition provisions in the First Nation's taxation law, the First Nation may provide justification of the rate for Commission consideration on the basis set out in paragraph 8.1(c).
8.3 Where a First Nation proposes to justify a tax rate under paragraph 8.1(a), the First Nation must provide to the Commission a signed service agreement evidencing the increased costs, or written evidence of the increased costs signed by the First Nation's chief financial officer.
8.4 Where a First Nation proposes to justify a tax rate under paragraph 8.1(c), the First Nation must provide to the Commission letters of support from individual taxpayers or taxpayer associations representing
(a) at least fifty percent (50%) of the taxpayers in that property class; and
(b) taxpayers holding at least fifty percent (50%) of the total assessed values in that property class.

9. Transition to Reference Jurisdiction Rate-Setting

9.1 In the first year that a First Nation proposes to justify its tax rates under paragraph 8.1(b), the First Nation must provide to the Commission, at the time of submitting its Law for approval consideration,
(a) a reference jurisdiction transition plan that meets the requirements set out in this section;
(b) confirmation that the First Nation, in the previous taxation year and before the notice referenced in paragraph (c), delivered an individual, written notice to each taxpayer that the First Nation intends to develop a reference jurisdiction transition plan in order to transition to establishing tax rates that are identical to the reference jurisdiction; and
(c) confirmation that the First Nation, in the previous taxation year,
(i) gave notice to its taxpayers of the reference jurisdiction transition plan and the date, time and location of a taxpayer meeting to review and discuss the plan, and
(ii) held at least one (1) taxpayer information meeting where it reviewed the plan with taxpayers.
9.2 A notice under subparagraph 9.1(c)(i) must be delivered to any taxpayers associations, and posted on the First Nation's website, in the First Nations Gazette, in the First Nation's administrative offices, and in at least two (2) other locations on the reserve, at least 14 days before the date of the taxpayer meeting.
9.3 A First Nation that proposes to justify an increase its tax rates in one or more property classes in order to transition to establishing tax rates that are identical to the reference jurisdiction must develop a reference jurisdiction transition plan that
(a) provides a justification for the proposed increases in tax rates that relates either to providing a higher level of local services to the taxpayers, or to building new or replacement local service infrastructure; and

(b) sets out how tax rates will increase incrementally in one (1) or more property classes over a period of not more than five (5) years in order to match the reference jurisdiction rates in all property classes.

10. Notice of Proposed Tax Rates

10.1 A First Nation must, in each year before submitting its By-law to the Commission for review and approval,
(a) give written notice of its proposed tax rates by setting out the tax rate or rates for each property class and posting the notice on the First Nation's website or on the First Nations Gazette website; or
(b) hold a public meeting at which taxpayers may meet with the tax administrator or members of Council to discuss the proposed tax rates.
10.2 Where a First Nation justifies a tax rate under paragraph 8.1(a) or (b), the First Nation must provide a description of the justification as part of the notice required under subsection 10.1.

PART VIII
POLICY FOR AGRICULTURAL PROPERTIES IN THE PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN

11. Application of this Part

11.1 This Part applies to the setting of tax rates for agricultural property where a First Nation's property taxation by-law provides for taxation on the basis of the taxable area of the agricultural property.
11.2 Where this Part applies to the setting of tax rates in a property class, Part VII does not apply to the setting of tax rates in that property class.

12. Rate Setting Per Acre

12.1 The By-law must establish a single tax rate in a property class that is equal to or less than the amount levied per acre in the same property class in the reference jurisdiction.
12.2 For the purposes of subsection 12.1, the amount levied per acre in the reference jurisdiction must be determined by dividing the total property tax revenues within the property class by the total number of acres of property within that property class.

13. No Minimum Tax
A By-law must not establish a minimum tax in a property class to which this Part applies.

PARTIE VII
POLITIQUE

1. Fixation des taux d'imposition

1.1 Le règlement administratif doit fixer un taux d'imposition pour chacune des catégories de biens fonciers, exprimé comme suit :

a) soit un taux pour chaque dollar (1 $) de la valeur imposable;

b) soit un taux pour chaque cent dollars (100 $) de la valeur imposable;

c) soit un taux pour chaque mille dollars (1000 $) – taux du millième – de la valeur imposable.

1.2 À titre d'exception au paragraphe 1.1, le règlement administratif peut fixer un taux d'imposition à partir d'une base différente pour une catégorie de biens fonciers si le territoire de référence de la première nation fixe un taux d'imposition à partir d'une base différente pour la même catégorie de biens fonciers.

2. Application des taux d'imposition dans une catégorie de biens fonciers

2.1 Le règlement administratif doit prévoir l'application uniforme des taux d'imposition dans une même catégorie de biens fonciers, sauf dans le cas prévu au paragraphe 2.2.

2.2 Le règlement administratif peut établir des taux d'imposition multiples dans une catégorie de biens fonciers dans le cas où le territoire de référence de la première nation en a établi, pourvu que:

a) d'une part, il établit dans chaque catégorie de biens fonciers le même nombre de taux d'imposition que celui établi dans le territoire de référence;

b) d'autre part, pour l'application de ces taux d'imposition dans chaque catégorie de biens fonciers, il utilise les mêmes critères que ceux utilisés dans le territoire de référence.

3. Districts fiscaux et territoires de référence multiples

3.1 Lorsqu'une première nation a établi un (1) ou plusieurs districts fiscaux :

a) elle peut fixer un taux d'imposition pour chaque catégorie de biens fonciers dans chacun des districts fiscaux;

b) les exigences de la présente politique relatives à la fixation des taux d'imposition doivent être interprétées de manière à s'appliquer de façon distincte dans chaque district fiscal.

3.2 Dans les cas où une première nation a de multiples réserves et plus d'un (1) territoire de référence pour celles-ci, le règlement administratif peut fixer des taux d'imposition différents pour les diverses réserves, pourvu que les réserves ayant le même territoire de référence aient le même taux d'imposition dans chaque catégorie de biens fonciers.

4. Impôt minimum

Lorsque le règlement administratif fixe un montant d'impôt minimum à prélever sur les biens fonciers d'une catégorie de biens fonciers, ce montant ne peut être supérieur à cent dollars (100 $), sauf dans les cas prévus à l'article 5.

5. Exceptions à l'impôt minimum

5.1 Le règlement administratif peut fixer un montant d'impôt minimum supérieur à cent dollars (100 $) dans les cas où cela est nécessaire pour créer un régime d'imposition équitable en raison de l'une ou l'autre des circonstances suivantes :

a) la première nation souhaite harmoniser son régime avec les montants d'impôt minimum établis dans la province ou le territoire de référence;

b) les coûts, pour la première nation, de la fourniture de services aux biens fonciers ayant les valeurs imposables les plus faibles sont supérieurs à cent dollars (100 $).

5.2 À titre d'exception au paragraphe 5.1, lorsqu'une première nation a inclus des dispositions transitoires dans son règlement administratif sur l'imposition foncière conformément au paragraphe 3.4 de la Politique relative aux règlements administratifs sur l'imposition foncière, à chaque année de la période de transition le règlement administratif doit fixer un impôt minimum égal au montant des frais de service imposés par la première nation durant l'année précédant sa première année d'imposition.

6. Fixation des taux pour la première année d'imposition

6.1 Lorsqu'une première nation exerce ses pouvoirs d'imposition foncière pour la première fois, elle doit utiliser les mêmes pratiques d'évaluation que l'ancienne autorité taxatrice ou le territoire de référence, selon le cas, et son règlement administratif doit :

a) fixer les mêmes taux d'imposition que ceux établis par l'ancienne autorité taxatrice pour l'année en cours;

b) s'il n'y a pas d'ancienne autorité taxatrice, fixer les mêmes taux d'imposition que ceux du territoire de référence pour l'année en cours.

6.2 À titre d'exception au paragraphe 6.1, lorsqu'une première nation a inclus des dispositions transitoires dans son règlement administratif sur l'imposition foncière conformément au paragraphe 3.4 de la Politique relative aux règlements administratifs sur l'imposition foncière, à chaque année de la période de transition le règlement administratif doit fixer des taux d'imposition conformes à ces dispositions transitoires pour les catégories de biens fonciers applicables.

7. Fixation des taux pour les années d'imposition subséquentes

7.1 Pour la deuxième année et les années subséquentes où une première nation exerce ses pouvoirs d'imposition foncière, le règlement administratif doit fixer des taux d'imposition fondés sur son budget des dépenses sur les recettes locales, lesquels, selon le cas :

a) lorsqu'ils sont appliqués, font en sorte que l'augmentation du relevé d'impôt moyen pour chaque catégorie de biens fonciers par rapport à l'année précédente ne dépasse :

(i) ni le taux d'inflation national annuel de l'année précédente,

(ii) ni l'augmentation du relevé d'impôt moyen pour chaque catégorie de biens dans le territoire de référence pour l'année précédente;

b) sont identiques à ceux établis dans le territoire de référence pour l'année en cours et l'année précédente, notamment en prévoyant le même nombre de taux d'imposition lorsque le territoire de référence a établi des taux d'imposition multiples dans une catégorie de biens fonciers.

7.2 À titre d'exception au paragraphe 7.1, lorsqu'une première nation a inclus des dispositions transitoires dans son règlement administratif sur l'imposition foncière conformément au paragraphe 3.4 de la Politique relative aux règlements administratifs sur l'imposition foncière, à chaque année de la période de transition le règlement administratif doit fixer des taux d'imposition conformes à ces dispositions transitoires pour les catégories de biens fonciers applicables.

7.3 Pour l'application de l'alinéa 7.1a) :

a) lorsqu'un contribuable représentatif est utilisé pour l'établissement du relevé d'impôt moyen, il doit s'agir d'un contribuable qui était contribuable l'année précédente et qui l'est toujours pendant l'année en cours;

b) si le contribuable représentatif détient un bien foncier qui a subi un changement de la valeur imposable attribuable à de nouvelles constructions ou à l'ajout de terres au bien, ce changement doit être exclu lors du calcul de l'augmentation du relevé d'impôt moyen;

c) lorsque la moyenne des relevés d'impôt foncier de tous les contribuables est utilisée pour l'établissement du relevé d'impôt moyen, tout changement de la valeur imposable des biens fonciers de la catégorie de biens fonciers en cause qui est attribuable à de nouvelles constructions ou à l'ajout de terres aux biens doit être exclu lors du calcul de l'augmentation du relevé d'impôt moyen.

7.4 Pour l'application de l'alinéa 7.1a), lorsque la valeur imposable d'un bien foncier est calculée au moyen d'un taux fixé par règlement, selon le cas :

a) ce bien foncier peut être exclu lors du calcul de l'augmentation du relevé d'impôt moyen pour une catégorie de bien fonciers;

b) le relevé d'impôt moyen peut être établi en excluant toute augmentation ou réduction de la valeur imposable de ce bien foncier pour l'année en cours par rapport à l'année précédente.

7.5 Afin de respecter les exigences du sous-alinéa 7.1a)(ii) ou de l'alinéa 7.1b), la première nation doit obtenir et fournir à la Commission tous les renseignements nécessaires provenant du territoire de référence que celle-ci juge satisfaisants.

7.6 Lorsque le règlement administratif fixe des taux d'imposition en conformité avec l'alinéa 7.1b), la première nation doit utiliser des pratiques d'évaluation identiques à celles utilisées par le territoire de référence pendant l'année en cours et l'année précédente.

8. Justification des augmentations de taux additionnelles

8.1 Lorsque le règlement administratif fixe un taux d'imposition qui ne satisfait pas aux critères énoncés au paragraphe 7.1, la première nation peut soumettre une justification de ce taux à la Commission pour examen, en invoquant l'un (1) ou plusieurs des motifs suivants :

a) les coûts engagés par la première nation pour la prestation des services locaux – tels les services d'approvisionnement en eau, les services d'égouts, le ramassage des déchets, la protection contre les incendies et les routes – ont augmenté considérablement depuis l'année précédente;

b) le taux est compatible avec le plan de transition de la première nation;

c) les contribuables dans la catégorie de biens fonciers en cause appuient le taux proposé.

8.2 Lorsque le paragraphe 7.2 s'applique et que le règlement administratif fixe un taux d'imposition non conforme aux dispositions transitoires du règlement administratif sur l'imposition foncière de la première nation, celle-ci peut soumettre une justification du taux à la Commission pour examen, en invoquant le motif énoncé à l'alinéa 8.1c).

8.3 La première nation qui entend justifier un taux d'imposition sur le fondement de l'alinéa 8.1a) doit remettre à la Commission soit une convention de services signée qui démontre les coûts accrus, soit une preuve écrite des coûts accrus signée par le directeur des finances de la première nation.

8.4 La première nation qui entend justifier un taux d'imposition sur le fondement de l'alinéa 8.1c) doit remettre à la Commission des lettres d'appui reçues de contribuables à titre individuel ou d'associations de contribuables représentant à la fois :

a) au moins cinquante pour cent (50 %) des contribuables dans la catégorie de biens fonciers visée;

b) les contribuables détenant au moins cinquante pour cent (50 %) du total des valeurs imposables de cette catégorie de biens fonciers.

9. Transition vers les taux du territoire de référence

a) un plan de transition qui satisfait aux exigences du présent article;

b) la confirmation qu'elle a, au cours de l'année d'imposition précédente et avant de donner l'avis visé à l'alinéa c), transmis un avis écrit à chaque contribuable pour l'informer de son intention d'élaborer un plan de transition afin d'effectuer le passage à des taux d'imposition identiques à ceux du territoire de référence;

c) la confirmation qu'elle a, au cours de l'année d'imposition précédente :

(i) d'une part, donné à ses contribuables un avis les informant du plan de transition ainsi que des date, heure et lieu de l'assemblée où ils étaient invités à examiner ce plan et à en discuter,

(ii) d'autre part, tenu au moins une (1) séance d'information où elle a examiné le plan de transition avec les contribuables.

a) donne une justification des augmentations proposées qui se rapporte à la prestation d'un niveau supérieur de services locaux aux contribuables ou à la construction d'une infrastructure nouvelle ou de remplacement pour les services locaux;

b) précise de quelle façon les taux d'imposition augmenteront graduellement dans une (1) ou plusieurs catégories de biens fonciers sur une période d'au plus cinq (5) ans afin de correspondre aux taux du territoire de référence pour toutes les catégories de biens fonciers.

10. Avis des taux d'imposition proposés

a) soit donner un avis écrit des taux d'imposition proposés en y indiquant le ou les taux d'imposition pour chaque catégorie de biens fonciers et en affichant l'avis sur le site Web de la première nation ou sur celui de la Gazette des premières nations;

b) soit tenir une assemblée publique au cours de laquelle les contribuables peuvent rencontrer l'administrateur fiscal ou les membres du conseil de la première nation pour discuter des taux d'imposition proposés.

10.2 Si la première nation justifie un taux d'imposition sur le fondement des alinéas 8.1a) ou b), elle doit inclure une description de cette justification dans l'avis prévu au paragraphe 10.1.

PART I - Interpretation

Interpretation

1.(1) In this Schedule:

"spouse" means, in relation to an individual, a person to whom the individual is married or with whom the individual has lived as a common law partner for at least one (1) year in a marriage-like relationship; and

"this Law" means the Financial Administration Law to which this Schedule is attached and forms a part.

(2) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Schedule, words and expressions used in this Schedule have the same meanings as in this Law.

(3) Sections 3 and 5 of this Law apply to this Schedule.

(4) If there is a conflict between a provision of this Schedule and this Law, the provision of this Law applies.

Definition of Conflict of Interest

2.(1) In this Schedule, an individual has a "conflict of interest" when the individual exercises a power or performs a duty or function and at the same time knows or ought reasonably to have known that in the exercise of the power or performance of the duty or function there is an opportunity to benefit the individual's private interests.

(2) In this Schedule, an individual has an "apparent conflict of interest" if a reasonably well-informed person would perceive that the individual's ability to exercise a power or perform a duty or function of their office or position must be affected by the individual's private interests.

(3) In this Schedule, an individual's "private interests" means the individual's personal and business interests and include the personal and business interests of

(a) the individual's spouse,

(b) a person under the age of eighteen (18) years in respect of whom the individual or the individual's spouse is a parent or acting in a parental capacity,

(c) a person in respect of whom the individual or the individual's spouse is acting as guardian,

(d) a person, other than an employee, who is financially dependent upon the individual or the individual's spouse or on whom the individual is financially dependent, and

(e) an entity in which the individual or the individual in combination with any other person described in this subsection has a controlling interest.

(4) Despite subsections (1) and (2), an individual's private interests do not give rise to a conflict of interest if those interests

(a) are the same as those of a broad class of members of the First Nation of which the individual is a member; or

(b) are so remote or insignificant that they could not be reasonably regarded as likely to influence the individual in the exercise of a power or performance of a duty or function.

The determination of Just Cause shall be on the civil standard, being a balance of probabilities.

7.9 The arbitrator shall provide written reasons for his or her conclusion and shall deliver those reasons to the Council.

7.10 The arbitrator's decision shall be enforceable as a judgment of the Court and the First Nation is entitled to apply for a judgment of the Alberta Court of Queen's Bench to enforce the arbitrator's award in accordance with the Arbitration Act, RSA 2000, c. Interpretation

109.(1) In this Schedule:

"spouse" means, in relation to an individual, a person to whom the individual is married or with whom the individual has lived as a common law partner for at least one (1) year in a marriage-like relationship; and

"this Law" means the Financial Administration Law to which this Schedule is attached and forms a part.

(2) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Schedule, words and expressions used in this Schedule have the same meanings as in this Law.

(4) If there is a conflict between a provision of this Schedule and this Law, the provision of this Law applies.

Definition of Conflict of Interest

110.(1) In this Schedule, an individual has a "conflict of interest" when the individual exercises a power or performs a duty or function and at the same time knows or ought reasonably to have known that in the exercise of the power or performance of the duty or function there is an opportunity to benefit the individual's private interests.

(2) In this Schedule, an individual has an "apparent conflict of interest" if a reasonably well-informed person would perceive that the individual's ability to exercise a power or perform a duty or function of their office or position must be affected by the individual's private interests.

(3) In this Schedule, an individual's "private interests" means the individual's personal and business interests and include the personal and business interests of

(e) an entity in which the individual or the individual in combination with any other person described in this subsection has a controlling interest.

(4) Despite subsections (1) and (2), an individual's private interests do not give rise to a conflict of interest if those interests

(a) are the same as those of a broad class of members of the First Nation of which the individual is a member; or

(b) are so remote or insignificant that they could not be reasonably regarded as likely to influence the individual in the exercise of a power or performance of a duty or function.

INTERPRETATION

Interpretation

1. (1) In this Schedule, "this law" means the Siksika Nation Financial Administration Law to which this Schedule is attached and forms a part.

(2) Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Schedule, words and expressions used in this Schedule have the same meanings as in this law.

(3) Sections 2 and 4 of this law apply to this Schedule.

(4) If there is a conflict between a provision of this Schedule and this law, the provision of this law applies and prevails.

Definition of conflict of interest

2. (1) In this Schedule, an individual has a "conflict of interest" when the individual exercises a power or performs a duty or function and at the same time knows or ought reasonably to have known that in the exercise of the power or performance of the duty or function there is an opportunity to benefit the individual's private interests.

(2) In this Schedule, an individual has an "apparent conflict of interest" if a reasonably well informed person would perceive that the individual's ability to exercise a power or perform a duty or function of their office or position must be affected by the individual's private interests.

(3) In this Schedule, an individual's "private interests" mean the individual's personal and business interests and include the personal and business interests of

(a) the individual's spouse;

(b) a person under the age of eighteen (18) years in respect of whom the individual or the individual's spouse is a parent or acting in a parental capacity;

(c) a person in respect of whom the individual or the individual's spouse is acting as guardian;

(d) a person, other than an employee, who is financially dependent upon the individual or the individual's spouse or on whom the individual is financially dependent; and

(e) an entity in which the individual or the individual in combination with any other person described in this subsection has a controlling interest.

(4) Despite subsections (1) and (2), an individual's private interests do not give rise to a conflict of interest if those interests

(a) are the same as those of a broad class of members of the Siksika Nation; or

(b) are so remote or insignificant that they could not be reasonably regarded as likely to influence the individual in the exercise of a power or performance of a duty or function.

1. The public tender or auction, including the conditions that are attached to the acceptance of an offer, shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures prescribed by the Council of the St. Mary's Indian Band ("SMIB"), a copy of which may be obtained from the tax administrator.

ASSESSED VALUE

Assessment and Valuation

5.(1) The assessor must assess all interests in land that are subject to taxation under the Taxation Law and all interests in land for which payments-in-lieu may be accepted by ʔiɬwaṫnaʔis ʔaq̓am (Council).

(2) For the purpose of determining the assessed value of an interest in land for an assessment roll, the valuation date is July 1 of the year before the taxation year for which the assessment applies.

(3) The assessed value of an interest in land for an assessment roll is to be determined as if on the valuation date

(a) the interest in land was in the physical condition that it is in on October 31 following the valuation date; and

(b) the permitted use of the interest in land was the same as on October 31 following the valuation date.

(4) Paragraph (3)(a) does not apply to property referred to in paragraphs 18(3)(b) and (d) and the assessed value of property referred to in that section for an assessment roll must be determined as if on the valuation date the property was in the physical condition that it is in on December 31 following the valuation date.

(5) Except where otherwise provided, the assessor must assess interests in land at their market value as if held in fee simple off ʔaq̓am ʔamak (ʔaq̓am Lands).

(6) The assessor must determine the assessed value of an interest in land and must enter the assessed value of the interest in land in the assessment roll.

(3) On certification under this section, the revised assessment roll becomes the assessment roll for the taxation year and it is deemed to be effective as of the date the assessment roll was certified under section 11.

Validity of Assessment Roll

13. An assessment roll is effective on certification and unless amended in accordance with this ʔa·knumuɣtitɬiɬ (Law), by a decision of the Assessment Review Board or by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, is

(a) valid and binding on all parties concerned, despite any

(ii) defect, error or misstatement in any notice required, or

(iii) omission to mail any notice required; and

(b) for all purposes, the assessment roll of ʔaq̓am until the next certified assessment roll or certified revised assessment roll.

Inspection and Use of Assessment Roll

14.(1) On receipt by ʔiɬwaṫnaʔis ʔaq̓am (Council), the assessment roll is open to inspection in the ʔaq̓am administration office by any person during regular business hours.

(2) In addition to inspection under subsection (1), ʔiɬwaṫnaʔis ʔaq̓am (Council) may allow the assessment roll to be inspected electronically through an online service, provided that the information available online does not include any names or other identifying information about a holder or other person.

(3) A person must not, directly or indirectly, use the assessment roll or information contained in the assessment roll to

(a) obtain names, addresses or telephone numbers for solicitation purposes, whether the solicitations are made by telephone, mail or any other means; or

(b) harass an individual.

(4) The tax administrator may require a person who wishes to inspect the assessment roll to complete a declaration in substantially the form set out in Schedule III

(a) specifying the purpose for which the information is to be used; and

(b) certifying that the information contained in the assessment roll will not be used in a manner prohibited under this section.

Protection of Privacy in Assessment Roll

15.(1) On application by a holder, the assessor may omit or obscure the holder's name, address or other information about the holder that would ordinarily be included in an assessment roll if, in the assessor's opinion, the inclusion of the name, address or other information could reasonably be expected to threaten the safety or mental or physical health of the holder or a member of the holder's household.

(2) Where the assessor omits or obscures information under subsection (1), such information must be obscured from all assessment rolls that are available for public inspection under subsection 14(1) or are otherwise accessible to the public.

Chargeholders

16.(1) Any person holding a charge on assessable property may, at any time, give notice, with full particulars of the nature, extent and duration of the charge, to the assessor and request that his or her name be added to the assessment roll in respect of that assessable property, for the duration of the charge.

(2) On receipt of a notice and request under this section, the assessor must enter the person's name and address on the assessment roll and provide copies of all assessment notices issued in respect of the assessable property.

(3) A person whose name appears in the assessment roll must give written notice to the assessor of any change of address.

(4) Any number of interests in land assessed in the name of the same holder may be included in one Assessment Notice.

(5) If several interests in land are assessed in the name of the same holder at the same value, the Assessment Notice may clearly identify the property assessed, without giving the full description of each property as it appears in the assessment roll.

(6) Subject to subsection 14(2) and subsection (7), the assessor must provide, to any person who requests it and pays to the assessor the fee of six dollars ($6), the information contained in the current Assessment Notice sent by the assessor.

(7) Where information has been omitted or obscured under subsection 15(1), the assessor must omit that information from a notice provided under subsection (6).

PART VII

Amendments by Assessor

18.(1) Before March 16 in each year after the certification of an assessment roll under section 11, the assessor must notify and recommend correction to the Assessment Review Board of all errors or omissions in the assessment roll, except those errors or omissions corrected under subsection (2) or section 20.

(2) Before March 16 in each year after the certification of an assessment roll under section 11, the assessor may amend an individual entry in the assessment roll to correct an error or omission, with the consent of the

(a) holder of the interest in land; and

(b) the complainant, if the complainant is not the holder.

(3) Without limiting subsection (1), the assessor must give notice to the Assessment Review Board and recommend correction of the assessment roll in any of the following circumstances:

(a) because of a change in a holder that occurs before January 1 in a taxation year that is not reflected in the certified assessment roll and that results in

(i) land or improvements, or both, that were not previously subject to taxation becoming subject to taxation, or

(ii) land or improvements, or both, that were previously subject to taxation ceasing to be subject to taxation;

(b) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is moved to a new location or destroyed;

(c) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is placed on land that has been assessed or the manufactured home is purchased by the holder of land that has been assessed; and

(d) improvements, other than a manufactured home, that

(i) are substantially damaged or destroyed after October 31 and before the following January 1, and

(ii) cannot reasonably be repaired or replaced before the following January 1.

(4) Except as provided in section 19, or pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the assessor must not make any amendments to the assessment roll after March 31 of the current taxation year.

(5) Where the assessment roll is amended under subsection (1), the assessor must mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named in the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

Supplementary Assessment Roll

19.(1) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that any interest in land

(a) was liable to assessment for the current taxation year, but has not been assessed on the current assessment roll, or

(b) has been assessed for less than the amount for which it was liable to assessment,

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed on the current assessment roll, provided that a supplementary assessment roll under this section must not be prepared after December 31 of the taxation year in which the assessment roll certified under section 11 applies.

(2) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that an interest in land

(a) was liable to assessment for a previous taxation year, but has not been assessed on the assessment roll for that taxation year, or

(b) has been assessed in a previous taxation year for less than the amount for which it was liable to assessment,

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed, but only if the failure to assess the interest in land, or the assessment for less than it was liable to be assessed, is attributable to

(c) a holder's failure to disclose,

(d) a holder's concealment of particulars relating to assessable property,

(e) a person's failure to respond to a request for information under subsection 7(1), or

(f) a person's making of an incorrect response to a request for information under subsection 7(1),

as required under this ʔa·knumuɣtitɬiɬ (Law).

(3) In addition to supplementary assessments under subsections (1) and (2), the assessor may, at any time before December 31 of the taxation year in which the assessment roll certified under section 11 applies, correct errors and omissions in the assessment roll by means of entries in a supplementary assessment roll.

(4) The duties imposed on the assessor with respect to the assessment roll and the provisions of this ʔa·knumuɣtitɬiɬ (Law) relating to assessment rolls, so far as they are applicable, apply to supplementary assessment rolls.

(5) Where the assessor receives a decision of the Assessment Review Board after March 31 in a taxation year, the assessor must create a supplementary assessment roll reflecting the decision of the Assessment Review Board and this section applies.

(6) Nothing in this section authorizes the assessor to prepare a supplementary assessment roll that would be contrary to an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) A supplementary assessment roll that implements an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction may not be appealed to the Assessment Review Board.

(8) The assessor must, as soon as practicable, after issuing a supplementary assessment roll

(a) deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the ʔiɬwaṫnaʔis ʔaq̓am (Council);

(b) where the supplementary assessment roll reflects a decision of the Assessment Review Board, deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the chair; and

(c) mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named on the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

(9) Where a supplementary assessment roll is issued under this ʔa·knumuɣtitɬiɬ (Law), the supplementary assessment roll is deemed to be effective as of the date the assessment roll was certified under section 11 in respect of the assessable property affected.

(b) be made in writing and include the information set out in Schedule V; and

(c) include any reasons in support of the request.

(4) The assessor must consider the request for reconsideration and, within twenty-one (21) days after receiving the request for reconsideration, either

(a) advise the person who requested the reconsideration that the assessor confirms the assessment; or

(b) where the assessor determines that the assessable property should have been assessed differently, offer to the person who requested the reconsideration to modify the assessment.

(5) Where the person who requested the reconsideration agrees with the modification proposed by the assessor, the assessor must

(a) amend the assessment roll as necessary to reflect the modified assessment;

PART IV

ASSESSED VALUE

Assessment and Valuation

6.(1) The assessor must assess all interests in land that are subject to taxation under the Taxation Law and all interests in land for which payments-in-lieu may be accepted by Council.

(2) For the purpose of determining the assessed value of an interest in land for an assessment roll, the valuation date is July 1 of the year during which the assessment roll is completed.

(3) The assessed value of an interest in land for an assessment roll is to be determined as if on the valuation date

(a) the interest in land was in the physical condition that it is in on October 31 following the valuation date; and

(b) the permitted use of the interest in land was the same as on October 31 following the valuation date.

(4) Paragraph (3)(a) does not apply to property referred to in paragraphs 18(3)(b) and (d) and the assessed value of property referred to in that subsection for an assessment roll must be determined as if on the valuation date the property was in the physical condition that it is in on December 31 following the valuation date.

(5) Except where otherwise provided, the assessor must assess interests in land at their market value as if held in fee simple off the reserve.

(6) The assessor must determine the assessed value of an interest in land and must enter the assessed value of the interest in land in the assessment roll.

(7) In determining assessed value, the assessor may, except where this Law has a different requirement, give consideration to the following:

(a) present use;

(b) location;

(c) original cost;

(d) replacement cost;

(e) revenue or rental value;

(f) selling price of the interest in land and comparable interests in land;

239-02\00026

(g) economic and functional obsolescence; and

(h) any other circumstances affecting the value of the interest in land.

(8) Without limiting the application of subsections (5) and (6), an interest in land used for an industrial or commercial undertaking, a business or a public utility enterprise must be valued as the property of a going concern.

(9) Where a lease or other instrument granting an interest in land places a restriction on the use of the property, other than a right of termination or a restriction on the duration of the interest in land, the assessor must consider the restriction.

(10) Council hereby establishes the property classes established by the Province for provincial property assessment purposes, for the purposes of assessment under this Law and imposing taxes under the Taxation Law.

(11) The property classes established under subsection (10) are set out in Schedule I to this Law, and the classification criteria for each property class shall be determined using the corresponding provincial classification rules.

(12) As an exception to subsection (11), Class 7 (Forest land) must include only lands respecting which a licence or permit to cut timber has been issued under the Indian Act.

(13) The assessor must assess interests in land according to the property classes established under this Law.

(14) Where a property falls into two (2) or more property classes, the assessor must determine the share of the assessed value of the property attributable to each class and assess the property according to the proportion each share constitutes of the total assessed value.

(15) Where two (2) or more persons are holders of assessable property, the assessor may choose to assess the property in the name of any of those persons or in the names of two (2) or more of those persons jointly.

(16) If a building or other improvement extends over more than one (1) property, those properties, if contiguous, may be treated by the assessor as one property and assessed accordingly.

(17) Where an improvement extends over, under or through land and is owned, occupied, maintained, operated or used by a person other than the holder of the land, that improvement may be separately assessed to the person owning, occupying, maintaining, operating or using it, even though some other person holds an interest in the land.

(18) Except as otherwise provided in this Law, for the purposes of assessing interests in land the assessor must use

(a) the valuation methods, rates, rules and formulas established under provincial assessment legislation existing at the time of assessment; and

Exemption from Assessment

7.(1) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Law, improvements designed, constructed or installed to provide emergency protection for persons or domestic animals in the event of a disaster or emergency within the meaning of the Emergency Program Act (BC) are exempt from assessment under this Law.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Law, an interest in land is exempt from assessment under this Law if:

(a) Council has issued written authorization for the interest in land to be used for grazing; and

(b) the principal use of the interest in land is grazing.

(a) to obtain names, addresses or telephone numbers for solicitation purposes, whether the solicitations are made by telephone, mail or any other means; or

(b) to harass an individual.

(4) The assessor may require a person who wishes to inspect the assessment roll to complete a declaration in substantially the form set out in Schedule IV

(a) specifying the purpose for which the information is to be used; and

(b) certifying that the information contained in the assessment roll will not be used in a manner prohibited under this section.

Protection of Privacy in Assessment Roll

15.(1) On application by a holder, the tax administrator may omit or obscure the holder's name, address or other information about the holder that would ordinarily be included in an assessment roll if, in the tax administrator's opinion, the inclusion of the name, address or other information could reasonably be expected to threaten the safety or mental or physical health of the holder or a member of the holder's household.

(2) Where the tax administrator omits or obscures information under subsection (1), such information must be obscured from all assessment rolls that are available for public inspection under subsection 14(1) or are otherwise accessible to the public.

Chargeholders

16.(1) Any person holding a charge on assessable property may, at any time, give notice, with full particulars of the nature, extent and duration of the charge, to the assessor and request that his or her name be added to the assessment roll in respect of that assessable property, for the duration of the charge.

(2) On receipt of a notice and request under this section, the assessor must enter the person's name and address on the assessment roll and provide copies of all assessment notices issued in respect of the assessable property.

Assessment Notice

17.(1) The assessor must, on or before December 31 of each year, mail an Assessment Notice to every person named in the assessment roll in respect of each assessable property, at the person's address on the assessment roll.

239-02\00026

(2) Where requested by the recipient, an Assessment Notice may be e-mailed to a person named on the assessment roll, and the Assessment Notice will be deemed to have been delivered on the date that the e-mail is sent by the assessor.

(3) A person whose name appears in the assessment roll must give written notice to the assessor of any change of address.

(4) Any number of interests in land assessed in the name of the same holder may be included in one Assessment Notice.

(5) If several interests in land are assessed in the name of the same holder at the same value, the Assessment Notice may clearly identify the property assessed, without giving the full description of each property as it appears in the assessment roll.

(6) The assessor must provide, to any person who requests it and pays to the assessor the fee of six dollars ($6), the information contained in the current Assessment Notice sent by the assessor.

PART VII

Amendments by Assessor

18.(1) Before March 16 of the year following the certification of an assessment roll under section 11, the assessor must notify and recommend correction to the Assessment Review Board of all errors or omissions in the assessment roll, except those errors or omissions corrected under subsection (2).

(2) Before March 16 of the year following the certification of an assessment roll under section 11, the assessor may amend an individual entry in the assessment roll to correct an error or omission, with the consent of the

(a) holder of the interest in land; and

(b) the complainant, if the complainant is not the holder.

(3) Without limiting subsection (1), the assessor must give notice to the Assessment Review Board and recommend correction of the assessment roll in any of the following circumstances:

(a) because of a change in a holder that occurs before January 1 in a taxation year that is not reflected in the certified assessment roll and that results in

(i) land or improvements, or both, that were not previously subject to taxation become subject to taxation, or

(ii) land or improvements, or both, that were previously subject to taxation cease to be subject to taxation;

(b) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is moved to a new location or destroyed;

(c) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is placed on land that has been assessed or the manufactured home is purchased by the holder of land that has been assessed; and

(d) improvements, other than a manufactured home, that

(i) are substantially damaged or destroyed after October 31 and before the following January 1, and

(ii) cannot reasonably be repaired or replaced before the following January 1.

(4) Except as provided in section 19, or pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the assessor must not make any amendments to the assessment roll after March 31 of the current taxation year.

(5) Where the assessment roll is amended under subsection (1), the assessor must mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named in the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

Supplementary Assessment Roll

19.(1) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that any interest in land

(a) was liable to assessment for the current taxation year, but has not been assessed on the current assessment roll, or

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed on the current assessment roll, provided that a supplementary assessment roll under this subsection must not be prepared after December 31 of the year following certification of the assessment roll under section 11.

(2) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that an interest in land

(b) has been assessed in a previous taxation year for less than the amount for which it was liable to assessment,

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed, but only if the failure to assess the interest in land, or the assessment for less than it was liable to be assessed, is attributable to

(c) a holder's failure to disclose,

(d) a holder's concealment of particulars relating to assessable property,

(e) a person's failure to respond to a request for information under subsection 8(1), or

(f) a person's making of an incorrect response to a request for information under subsection 8(1),

as required under this Law.

(3) In addition to supplementary assessments under subsections (1) and (2), the assessor may, at any time before December 31 of the year following certification of the assessment roll under section 11, correct errors and omissions in the assessment roll by means of entries in a supplementary assessment roll.

(4) The duties imposed on the assessor with respect to the assessment roll and the provisions of this Law relating to assessment rolls, so far as they are applicable, apply to supplementary assessment rolls.

(5) Where the assessor receives a decision of the Assessment Review Board after March 31 in a taxation year, the assessor must create a supplementary assessment roll reflecting the decision of the Assessment Review Board and this section applies.

(6) Nothing in this section authorizes the assessor to prepare a supplementary assessment roll that would be contrary to an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) A supplementary assessment roll that implements an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction may not be appealed to the Assessment Review Board.

(8) The assessor must, as soon as practicable, after issuing a supplementary assessment roll

(a) deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the Council;

(b) where the supplementary assessment roll reflects a decision of the Assessment Review Board, deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the chair; and

(c) mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named on the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

(9) Where a supplementary assessment roll is issued under this Law, the supplementary assessment roll is deemed to be effective as of the date the assessment roll was certified under section 11 in respect of the assessable property affected.

RECONSIDERATION OF ASSESSMENT

Reconsideration by Assessor

20.(1) A person named on the assessment roll in respect of an assessable property may request that the assessor reconsider the assessment of that assessable property.

(2) A request for reconsideration may be made on one or more of the grounds on which an assessment appeal may be made under this Law.

(3) A request for reconsideration of an assessment must

(a) be delivered to the assessor within thirty (30) days after the day that the Assessment Notice is mailed or e-mailed to the person named on the assessment roll in respect of an assessable property;

(b) be made in writing and include the information set out in Schedule VI; and

(c) include any reasons in support of the request.

(4) The assessor must consider the request for reconsideration and, within fourteen (14) days after receiving the request for reconsideration, either

(a) advise the person who requested the reconsideration that the assessor confirms the assessment; or

(b) where the assessor determines that assessable property should have been assessed differently, offer to the person who requested the reconsideration to modify the assessment.

(5) Where the person who requested the reconsideration agrees with the modification proposed by the assessor, the assessor must

(a) amend the assessment roll as necessary to reflect the modified assessment;

(b) give notice of the amended assessment to the tax administrator and to all other persons who received the Assessment Notice in respect of the assessable property; and

(c) where a Notice of Appeal has been delivered in respect of the assessable property, advise the Assessment Review Board of the modification.

(6) Where the person who requested the reconsideration accepts an offer to modify an assessment, that person must not appeal the modified assessment and must withdraw any Notice of Appeal filed in respect of the assessable property.

PART IX

(2) The chair must

(3) Costs incurred by the First Nation in the collection and enforcement of unpaid taxes

(13) Where two (2) or more persons are holders of assessable property, the assessor may choose to assess the property in the name of any of those persons or in the names of two (2) or more of those persons jointly.

(14) If a building or other improvement extends over more than one (1) property, those properties, if contiguous, may be treated by the assessor as one property and assessed accordingly.

(15) Where an improvement extends over, under or through land and is owned, occupied, maintained, operated or used by a person other than the holder of the land, that improvement may be separately assessed to the person owning, occupying, maintaining, operating or using it, even though some other person holds an interest in the land.

(16) Except as otherwise provided in this Law, for the purposes of assessing interests in land the assessor must use

(a) the valuation methods, rates, rules and formulas established under provincial assessment legislation existing at the time of assessment; and

(b) the assessment rules and practices used by assessors in the Province for conducting assessments off the reserve.

Exemption from Assessment

6. Notwithstanding any other provision in this Law, improvements designed, constructed or installed to provide emergency protection for persons or domestic animals in the event of a disaster or emergency within the meaning of the Emergency Program Act (BC) are exempt from assessment under this Law.

(3) On certification under this section, the revised assessment roll becomes the assessment roll for the taxation year and it is deemed to be effective as of the date the assessment roll was certified under section 10.

Validity of Assessment Roll

12. An assessment roll is effective on certification and unless amended in accordance with this Law, by a decision of the Assessment Review Board or by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, is

(a) valid and binding on all parties concerned, despite any

(i) omission, defect or error committed in, or with respect to, the assessment roll,

(ii) defect, error or misstatement in any notice required, or

(2) In addition to inspection under subsection 13(1), Council may allow the assessment roll to be inspected electronically through an online service, provided that the information available online does not include any names or other identifying information about a holder or other person.

(3) A person must not, directly or indirectly, use the assessment roll or information contained in the assessment roll to

(a) obtain names, addresses or telephone numbers for solicitation purposes, whether the solicitations are made by telephone, mail or any other means; or

Protection of Privacy in Assessment Roll

14.(1) On application by a holder, the assessor may omit or obscure the holder's name, address or other information about the holder that would ordinarily be included in an assessment roll if, in the assessor's opinion, the inclusion of the name, address or other information could reasonably be expected to threaten the safety or mental or physical health of the holder or a member of the holder's household.

(2) Where the assessor omits or obscures information under subsection (1), such information must be obscured from all assessment rolls that are available for public inspection under subsection 13(1) or are otherwise accessible to the public.

Chargeholders

15.(1) Any person holding a charge on assessable property may, at any time, give notice, with full particulars of the nature, extent and duration of the charge, to the assessor and request that his or her name be added to the assessment roll in respect of that assessable property, for the duration of the charge.

(6) Subject to subsection 13(2) and subsection (7), the assessor must provide, to any person who requests it and pays to the assessor the fee of six dollars ($6) or any other fee as prescribed from time to time under the Assessment Act, R.S.B.C. 1996, C.20, the information contained in the current Assessment Notice sent by the assessor.

(7) Where information has been omitted or obscured under subsection 14(1), the assessor must omit that information from a notice provided under subsection (6).

PART VII

Amendments by Assessor

17.(1) Before March 16 in each year after the certification of an assessment roll under section 10, the assessor must notify and recommend correction to the Assessment Review Board of all errors or omissions in the assessment roll, except those errors or omissions corrected under subsection (2) or section 19.

(2) Before March 16 in each year after the certification of an assessment roll under section 10, the assessor may amend an individual entry in the assessment roll to correct an error or omission, with the consent of the

(a) holder of the interest in land; and

(b) the complainant, if the complainant is not the holder.

(3) Without limiting subsection (1), the assessor must give notice to the Assessment Review Board and recommend correction of the assessment roll in any of the following circumstances:

(a) because of a change in a holder that occurs before January 1 in a taxation year that is not reflected in the certified assessment roll and that results in

(i) land or improvements, or both, that were not previously subject to taxation becoming subject to taxation, or

(ii) land or improvements, or both, that were previously subject to taxation ceasing to be subject to taxation;

(b) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is moved to a new location or destroyed;

(c) after October 31 and before the following January 1, a manufactured home is placed on land that has been assessed or the manufactured home is purchased by the holder of land that has been assessed; and

(d) improvements, other than a manufactured home, that

(i) are substantially damaged or destroyed after October 31 and before the following January 1, and

(ii) cannot reasonably be repaired or replaced before the following January 1.

(4) Except as provided in section 18, or pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the assessor must not make any amendments to the assessment roll after March 31 of the current taxation year.

(5) Where the assessment roll is amended under subsection (1), the assessor must mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named in the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

Supplementary Assessment Roll

18.(1) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that any interest in land

(a) was liable to assessment for the current taxation year, but has not been assessed on the current assessment roll, or

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed on the current assessment roll, provided that a supplementary assessment roll under this section must not be prepared after December 31 of the taxation year in which the assessment roll certified under section 10 applies.

(2) If, after the certification of the revised assessment roll or where there is no revised assessment roll, after March 31, the assessor finds that an interest in land

(a) was liable to assessment for a previous taxation year, but has not been assessed on the assessment roll for that taxation year, or

the assessor must assess the interest in land on a supplementary assessment roll, or further supplementary assessment roll, in the same manner that it should have been assessed, but only if the failure to assess the interest in land, or the assessment for less than it was liable to be assessed, is attributable to

(c) a holder's failure to disclose,

(d) a holder's concealment of particulars relating to assessable property,

(e) a person's failure to respond to a request for information under subsection 7(1), or

(f) a person's making of an incorrect response to a request for information under subsection 7(1),

as required under this Law.

(3) In addition to supplementary assessments under subsections (1) and (2), the assessor may, at any time before December 31 of the taxation year in which the assessment roll certified under section 10 applies, correct errors and omissions in the assessment roll by means of entries in a supplementary assessment roll.

(4) The duties imposed on the assessor with respect to the assessment roll and the provisions of this Law relating to assessment rolls, so far as they are applicable, apply to supplementary assessment rolls.

(5) Where the assessor receives a decision of the Assessment Review Board after March 31 in a taxation year, the assessor must create a supplementary assessment roll reflecting the decision of the Assessment Review Board and this section applies.

(6) Nothing in this section authorizes the assessor to prepare a supplementary assessment roll that would be contrary to an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) A supplementary assessment roll that implements an amendment ordered or directed by the Assessment Review Board or by a court of competent jurisdiction may not be appealed to the Assessment Review Board.

(8) The assessor must, as soon as practicable, after issuing a supplementary assessment roll

(a) deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the First Nation, care of the Tax Administrator;

(b) where the supplementary assessment roll reflects a decision of the Assessment Review Board, deliver a certified copy of the supplementary assessment roll to the chair; and

(c) mail an amended Assessment Notice to every person named on the assessment roll in respect of the interest in land affected.

(a) amend the assessment roll as necessary to reflect the modified assessment;

PART IV
LIABILITY FOR TAXATION

Application of Law

4. This Law applies to all interests in land.

Tax Liability

5.(1) Except as provided in Part V, all interests in land are subject to taxation under this Law.

(2) Taxes levied under this Law are a debt owed to the First Nation, recoverable by the First Nation in any manner provided for in this Law or in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) Where an interest in land is exempt from taxation under paragraph 7(1)(a) or (b), that exemption does not affect the liability to taxation of other holders of interests in the same property.

(4) Taxes are due and payable under this Law notwithstanding any proceeding initiated or remedy sought by a taxpayer respecting his or her liability to taxation under this Law.

(5) Any person who shares the same interest in taxable property is jointly and severally liable to the First Nation for all taxes imposed on that taxable property under this Law during the taxation year and for all unpaid taxes imposed in a previous taxation year, including, for clarity, interest, penalties and costs as provided in this Law.

Tax Refunds

(b) the interest rate during each successive three (3) month period beginning on January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1 in every year, is two percent (2%) below the prime lending rate of the principal banker to the First Nation on the 15th day of the month immediately preceding that three (3) month period;

(c) interest will not be compounded; and

(d) interest stops running on the day payment of the money owed is delivered or mailed to the person to whom it is owed, or is actually paid.

(3) Where a person is entitled to a refund of taxes, Council may by Resolution, as an alternative to providing a refund by cheque, direct the tax administrator to refund the amount in whole or in part by applying it as a credit on account of taxes or other unpaid amounts that are due or accruing due to KFN in respect of taxable property held by that person.

PART V

Exemptions

7.(1) The following interests in land are exempt from taxation under this Law to the extent indicated:

(a) economic revitalization;

(b) environmental revitalization; and of land within the reserve.

(ii) $350,000, if the objective provided for in the revitalization agreement is environmental revitalization; and

(a) describe the interest in land, or proposed interest in land, which is the subject of the revitalization agreement by reference to an assessment roll folio number, or by reference to lot number and survey plan, or by other sufficient and reliable form of description;

(d) include a provision that the exemption from taxation will end if the proponent does not actually carry out the investment described in the revitalization agreement, or otherwise breaches the revitalization agreement; and

(e) provide that the tax administrator shall be responsible for the implementation of the revitalization agreement on behalf of the First Nation, and provide the name of the individual responsible for the implementation of the revitalization agreement on behalf of the proponent taxpayer.

(4) Council may sign more than one revitalization agreement with a proponent taxpayer for the same interest in land in subsequent years provided that a new investment meeting the criteria in subparagraph (2)(b)(i), (ii) or (iii) is made.

(5) Council may, from time to time, by resolution establish any procedures, application forms, or other materials required for the proper promotion and administration of the revitalization program.

(6) The tax administrator will provide a copy of any revitalization agreement to the assessor within ten (10) days of its final approval and signing by Council and the proponent taxpayer.

(7) Where a revitalization agreement has gone into effect, the Council may only terminate the agreement by resolution:

(a) at the request of the holder; or

(b) if the holder fails to make the investment described in the revitalization agreement, or otherwise breaches the revitalization agreement.

(8) Upon termination of the revitalization agreement by Council under subsection (7):

(a) the tax administrator must, within 10 days, notify the holder of the cancellation and of the date on which it took effect or will take effect;

(b) where terminated under paragraph (7)(b), the holder is liable for all taxes that would have been payable in respect of the interest in the land from the date of the breach; and

(i) any taxes due from the date of cancellation; or

(ii) any taxes due from the date that the holder breached the agreement;

(d) the holder is liable and must, within thirty (30) days, pay the First Nation all amounts owing as set out in paragraph (c); and

(e) penalties are assessable and payable under Part X for any outstanding taxes or monies owing under paragraph (c) that are not paid within thirty (30) days in accordance with paragraph (d).
